1866 Rights Act Ruled Bar to Housing Bias

'Official Sanction' Idea Discarded for Reconstruction Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court held 7 to 2 today that an 1866 civil rights law bars all racial discrimination, private as well as public, in the sale or rental of property.

"Congress meant exactly what it said," Justice Potter Stewart wrote in the court's far-reaching decision.

The Reconstruction period law reaches both private and public action, the court said, and its enactment by Congress was held to be a valid exercise of congressional power.

Justices J. M. Harlan and Byron R. White dissented.

The 1866 law provides that: "All citizens of the United States shall have the same right, in every state and territory, as is enjoyed by white citizens thereof to inherit, purchase, lease, sell, hold and convey real and personal property."

It was invoked by Joseph Lee Jones, a Negro, and his wife, Barbara Jo, who is white, when they were barred from buying a home in the Paddock Woods Subdivision outside St. Louis.

In doing so, the justices rejected the notion that the 1866 law was intended only to prohibit housing segregation that had official sanction.

Accused Assassin

Sirhan's Vocal Dislike For Kennedy Revealed

NEW YORK (AP) — Sirhan, B. Sirhan shouted his dislike of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy shortly before Kennedy was slain, Life magazine says.

In its current issue, the magazine said two witnesses told of Sirhan's activities before the shooting. Sirhan is accused of the slaying.

On the evening before Kennedy was shot, Life said, Sirhan "had just been thrown out of a victory party being held by backers of Max Rafferty who had won the GOP senatorial nomination."

Refused Service
Because he was coatless and without a tie, the story says, an Ambassador Hotel waitress refused to serve Sirhan a drink. "He put up a fuss," Life said, "and contemptuously tipped her $20 'for nothing.' A security guard eased him out."

On the other side of the lobby, the magazine said, Rabago nodded in the direction of the Embassy Room and said, "Robert Kennedy might help the poor."

At that, Sirhan was quoted as shouting, "Kennedy—Kennedy—He should never be president. Kennedy helps himself. He's just using the poor. Can't you see that?"

In another development related to the assassination, police in San Gabriel refused to comment on a gunshop owner's disclosure that he sold ammunition to Sirhan and two companions five days before the killing.

Ben Herrick, 42, owner of a store in this Los Angeles suburb, said the three bought four boxes of .22-caliber ammunition for $3.99 on the afternoon of June 1. The death gun was a .22-caliber pistol.

He said two of the boxes contained miniature magnum shells, which he described as the most powerful ammunition available for a .22-caliber weapon.

WASHINGTON (AP) — For-dancer although stable usually means the patient's treatment and condition are satisfactory.

Maj. George Foster, public affairs officer at the hospital, said in answer to a question doctors said they considered this "a malignant" attack.

The attack came Saturday night at Walter Reed, where the 77-year-old five-star general was recuperating from a mild heart seizure which struck him April 9 at Palm Desert, Calif., where he keeps a winter home.

Eisenhower was taken to Walter Reed by Air Force Plane May 14 after his doctors indicated he had recovered enough from his April 29 attack, described as a myocardial infarction, or blockage of an artery in the heart, to be moved.

He had been reported improving and received a visit last Tuesday from President Johnson. Eisenhower talked to his visitor while sitting on a sofa.

Since suffering his first heart attack in 1955, Eisenhower has been hospitalized eight times including the current stay at Walter Reed.

Three of these illnesses came in 1967 when he was treated two times for gastro-intestinal troubles and once for an enlarged prostate gland.

In 1966 he underwent surgery to correct a gall bladder condition, and in 1965 he suffered his second major heart attack.

Mrs. King issued a statement in Atlanta late Sunday urging all who believe "that America cannot afford poverty, cannot tolerate racism, and cannot survive war," to join her Wednesday.

"Solidarity Day" is being organized separately from the Poor People's Campaign, whose leaders held another march on Sunday to support the round-the-clock vigil that has camped there since Wednesday.

Only about 30 persons participated, but they carried the first

Talks in Washington?

West Germans Seek To Foil Red Squeeze

BONN (AP) — The West German Cabinet searched today for ways to combat the new Communist squeeze on West Berlin as the isolated city and the western half of Germany marked the anniversary of the 1953 uprising in East Germany.

Officials said Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger might fly to Washington to talk to President Johnson about the situation. The government announced Friday that Kiesinger would write or telephone the president, but officials now are talking about a personal visit to dramatize West Germany's concern.

Kiesinger called his Cabinet together to discuss what to do about the new Communist taxes and restrictions on surface travel between West Germany and West Berlin. Parliament is to debate the situation later in the week.

Regulations Protested
The United States, Britain and France have protested the East German regulations, which include passports by July 15 for all WV Germans and West Berliners traveling by surface routes, visas and increased taxes and travel costs on German goods shipped overland. Kiesinger announced that his government would pay the increases, which are estimated at $18.5 million a year.

Foreign Minister Willy Brandt said Saturday that protests by the Western allies would not be sufficient to meet the situation, but he did not suggest what else the allies could do.

Some members of Kiesinger's Christian Democratic party want him to put pressure on Washington and Moscow by refusing to sign the new treaty against the spread of nuclear weapons unless the Russians intervene against the travel regulations.

Fear Damage
Brandt's Social Democrats, who are partners in the government coalition with the Christian Democrats, have been arguing against this, contending it could damage Brandt's attempts to improve relations with Communist countries in Eastern Europe.

Support of Rocky by Governor May Mean Added Votes for Nixon

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has won a big-state endorsement from Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer for his GOP presidential bid—but acknowledges a drive for such backing could give new delegates to rival Richard M. Nixon.

Shafer announced the endorsement at the end of the Republican Governors Association Conference at Tulsa, Okla., over the weekend and estimated 45 to 50 of Pennsylvania's 64 Republican delegates would join him in backing Rockefeller.

Said Rockefeller: "In the last week, my campaign has really taken off." But he said further endorsements from governors who are now favorite sons could also release delegates to join Nixon's already substantial block of nominating votes.

"There is a delicate balance," he said.
Nixon's campaign manager, John Mitchell, said meanwhile the former vice president already has "more than enough delegates" to win the GOP presidential nomination and "will not engage in an exchange of charge and countercharge with Rockefeller."

29 Votes Short
Newsweek magazine said Sunday its tabulation shows Nixon only 29 votes short of the 667 needed for nomination, with 573 delegates favoring Nixon, 252 Rockefeller and 148 California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

On the Democratic side, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy indicates he plans to step up his presidential bid against Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey by pressing questions on Vietnam and other issues he has raised.

But former White House press secretary Bill J. Moyers predicted Humphrey will soon begin spelling out his differences with Johnson administration policies, including military escalation in Vietnam.

Moyers made the prediction in an interview broadcast on WNEW radio in New York.
Former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace returned his third party presidential campaign to the South—Richmond, Va.—today after saying in Washington he would emphasize law enforcement, rather than gun laws, as president.

"If I get to be president," Wallace said, "I'm going to stand with the police and we're going to have an orderly society."

Interviewed by ABC
He was interviewed on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

As the candidates campaigned, New Yorkers prepared to decide the last of the major presidential primaries Tuesday—with 123 Democratic and 82 Republican delegate seats at stake.

Democratic State Chairman John J. Burns said New York delegates states formerly pledged to Sen. Robert F. Kennedy will remain supporters of his principles. McCarthy backers predicted they would win 40 to 60 delegates and Humphrey slates were entered in 25 of the 41 congressional districts.

Rockefeller is challenged by Nixon delegate candidates for only 11 of the 82 GOP seats at stake.

Delegates were selected by party conventions over the weekend in Idaho and Montana. A poll of 25 Idaho Democratic delegates indicated 17 would vote for Humphrey and 5 for McCarthy with 3 uncommitted. The 14 GOP delegates reportedly favored Nixon but could not vote to Reagan.

Humphrey got 24 of Montana's 26 Democratic delegate votes and McCarthy 2.

Viet Cong Ship Rockets by Waterway

WASHINGTON (AP) — Viet Cong rockets bombarding Saigon were brought into South Vietnam from Cambodian storage areas in sampans moving at night along jungle-shrouded waterways, according to U.S. intelligence sources.
When the sampans, each carrying four or five of the weapons, arrive at a designated point in South Vietnam, they are sunk—with the rockets encased in waterproof containers—until the Viet Cong are ready to use them.

From prisoner interrogation and other sources of information, American intelligence specialists have pieced together a pattern indicating how the North Vietnamese are able to send the weapons deep into South Vietnam, to the point where they can be hurled against that country's capital and its population.

The rockets, mostly 122 millimeter, come down from North Vietnam by truck, passing through the Laotian panhandle, U.S. officials say, and on into Cambodia where they are stored near the South Vietnamese border.
Carried Across Border
They are then carried across the border along any of the more than 1,300 square miles of waterways reaching from Cambodia into the Saigon region.

Hundreds of sampans are said to operate along these streams for the Viet Cong, carrying rice as well as weapons and other supplies from Cambodia. Moving mostly at night, the boats are hard to spot.
The Cambodian government, which professes neutrality, repeatedly has denied that its soil

U.S. weapons authorities say that a crew of three men can handle and fire the rocket, but that as many as five may be involved in a fire team.

Supported Ky Vietnamese Remove 'Too Honest' General

SAIGON (AP) — A dynamic South Vietnamese general regarded as too honest by many of his colleagues has been dumped from another top job, reliable sources reported today.

The ouster of Lt. Gen. Nguyen Duc Thang was regarded here as part of President Nguyen Van Thieu's purge of senior military men allied with Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky.

Thang, who is 37, was once the American-supported boss of the pacification program. For the past four months he has commanded the 4th Corps Area, which includes the Mekong Delta.

Thang, a native of North Vietnam, has removed eight province chiefs for corruption and revitalized the military effort in the delta.

Reliable sources said Thang's closeness to Ky was the main reason that he was replaced today by Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van La, former inspector general of the armed forces. Thang is for the time being on "indefinite sick leave," a euphemism for being fired, the sources said. His dismissal had been rumored for a week.

Senior American officials considered the heavy-set, jut-jawed Thang the most energetic, efficient and competent figure in the Vietnamese government. But this was not enough to save him from fellow officers who disliked the manner in which he made war on corruption and from the power struggle between President Thieu and Vice President Ky.

The delta command was the third job Thang had held in less than a year. He was removed from the pacification program last August and given the No. 2 job in the armed forces. This ostensibly was a promotion, but Thang found that he was powerless to introduce any reforms.

Started Revitalization
He was appointed to the 4th Corps command on Feb. 27 to replace a mediocre officer about whom persistent reports of corruption circulated. From the moment he stepped from his plane into the hot and humid delta Thang began revitalizing the 4th Corps. His first night on the job, two battalions securing

Can Tho were on night patrol for the first time in the war.

Thang tried to weld the three Vietnamese divisions in the delta into some kind of coordinated whole and launched a 90-day counteroffensive against the Viet Cong that ended last Friday, he told newsmen he was happy at the progress, but he added: "I am not aiming to win now. We must hold now, win later."

Abernathy Calls Off Speech, Substitute Goes
PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, head of the South Christian Leadership Conference, canceled a speech Sunday at a Poor People's Campaign rally in the city's predominantly Negro Hill district.

The Rev. Andrew Young, SCLC vice president who appeared instead, said Abernathy stayed in Washington because the SCLC staff decided not to send two of its leaders to the same place at the same time.

Abernathy and Young were originally scheduled to speak. The FBI said in Pittsburgh Saturday that it had learned that threats had been made against Abernathy's life.

Rocky Glad-Handing
For Agnew's Support

Sole Mission of New Yorker at GOP Governor's Conference in Tulsa, Okla.

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

TULSA, Oklahoma — The nature of last weekend's Republican governors conference here was best revealed in the sole mission of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's agents: a quiet handholding operation with Gov.
Spiro (Ted) Agnew of Maryland.
The old moderate Republican dream of the governors uniting behind a single moderate was abandoned months ago, and Rockefeller never harbored many illusions on this score.
Rockefeller having decided that his only slim chance for the nomination is to change the public opinion polls by going to the people, the meeting of the governors was an irrelevant interruption in his new strategy.
All Rockefeller wanted to do here was prevent gains among the governors by front-running Richard M. Nixon. That meant making sure that Agnew, an ex-Rockefeller booster who has been edging ever closer to Nixon, did not fall into the Nixon bag in full sight of the nation's press at Tulsa.
Kept Close Watch
Accordingly, Agnew was accompanied on the plane ride to Tulsa by Alexander (Sandy) Lankier, Republican finance chairman in Maryland and the state's top Rockefeller man.
Rockefeller insiders met Thursday to detail plans for keeping Agnew uncommitted. Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas, in charge of the Agnew handholding operation, breakfasted with him Friday morning. Gov.
Ray Shafer in Pennsylvania, a Rocky man, had earnest words with Agnew later that day.
They succeeded to the extent that Agnew neither endorsed Nixon nor dropped his favorite-son status here, and the more optimistic Rockefeller agents feel they may yet win him back.
But their long-term prospects are dim.
Apart from lasting personal pique over not being notified last March 21 of Rockefeller's temporary dropout, Agnew of late has moved considerably to the right. Distressed about Negro insurrection and student disorder, Agnew feels confident that Nixon as President would use force if needed to restore order but is uncertain of Rockefeller's response.
Thus was the day-and-a-half meeting here a gloomy one for Rockefeller. Unable to energize the governors for himself any better than he had been able to mobilize them behind Gov.

George Romney of Michigan last December in Palm Beach, Fla., he had to be content staving off disaster by keeping Agnew neutral momentarily and getting the long-awaited endorsement from Shafer yesterday on NBC's "Meet the Press."
Rockefeller still hopes that other governors — Romney and John Love of Colorado, particularly — will endorse him before convention time and perhaps at the national governors conference in Cincinnati, July 21. But this depends on an upsurge in public sentiment that would find the governors following the polls instead of the other way around.
Oddly, apart from Agnew, strong pro-Rockefeller sentiment among the governors at Palm Beach in December has not really dissipated. A majority of the governors, though unhappy over the inept timing of Rockefeller's entry, still believe him a much stronger candidate than Nixon.
But for one reason or another, they are not backing Rockefel-

Washington must remain neutral as national convention key-

Cargo of New Mexico does not want to risk serious conservative opposition in the Aug. 27
Republican primary for governor. Gov. John A. Rhodes of Ohio, a potential kingmaker, disdains a candidate whose bandwagon is not rolling.
Deride Strategy
In this becalmed setting, Nixon's bright young operatives could afford to take it easy here. Richard Kleindienst, Nixon's director of field operations, in corridor conversations derided Rockefeller's strategy of campaigning for the Republican nomination by wooing Negroes and students. But other Nixon men, in keeping with Nixon's own decision to go into hibernation for several weeks, exhibited a studied nonchalance.
As did Rockefeller operatives who were not holding hands with Ted Agnew, key members of Rockefeller's political staff sprawled at the Camelot Inn swimming pool. Viewing this

What's a nice-looking car like you doing in a Volkswagen ad?

Nobody made a mistake. That shapely car is the new Volkswagen Fastback.
It's in this VW ad because it's a VW.
(We haven't made very many yet, so you probably haven't even seen one yet.
That's why we're running this ad in the first place.)
The Fastback isn't a VW in name only;
it's a Volkswagen through and through.
The engine is air-cooled so it has no use for water or antifreeze. And it's in the back to make the going easy when the weather isn't.
The Fastback is airtight, like all Volkswagens, because it's made in the same plant by the same people.
Naturally, there are differences, too.
The Fastback engine is a little more powerful (the car will cruise at better than 80). It holds 5 nicely. It has disc brakes in front. The upholstery is (for us) kind of jazzy. And it (the Fastback) costs $2,179*
If you've steered clear of a Volkswagen because it wasn't big enough or good-looking enough or expensive enough, you may be forced into thinking it all through again.
Sorry.

The Facts on ABC

The Appleton city council has wisely decided that the A Better Chance program is not the direct business of the city council. But the controversy over the program, which will bring a small number of disadvantaged youth with high academic potential to Appleton public and private high schools, served to get the facts before the public and dispel rumors.

So far nine boys and three girls have been chosen for the program with three more girls to be picked after extensive screening. Ten of the young people will be Negroes, four are white and one is an Indian. The boys will live in a home rented to the ABC program by Lawrence University while the girls will live in licensed foster homes. This is a privately sponsored program and there is no cost to the city.

Concern about the program is understandable since most community schools must constantly be expanded to take care of growing enrollments and school costs are continually increasing. But, as Edward Wall, local director of the ABC program pointed out, if there are youths from the Appleton area who qualify, they could be added to the program.

There is a question whether such programs, lasting only two years, can really help deprived students make up for the years of family neglect, poor educational facilities and other discriminations which they have experienced. But the drop-out rate experienced so far for students in the ABC program is only a third of the national average. Certainly the program is an opportunity for advancement for youngsters who seize the opportunity.

The immense problems of our large cities and the small pockets of deep poverty in some rural areas can no longer be considered completely local affairs. The dangers are a threat to us all. Cities like Appleton can help in working toward solving the problems by participation in programs like ABC. It is likely that if the program continues to show progress, it will be expanded into other cities in the area.

Public Books for Private Schools

The United States Supreme Court has upheld a New York law that requires public school systems to lend textbooks to children in parochial and other private schools. In a separate but related decision, the court removed a barrier against taxpayer suits challenging federal aid to parochial schools.

In a 6 to 3 decision, the court held that the New York "law is not in violation of the Constitution." The 1965 law had been challenged as a violation of the First Amendment, which provides that Congress may make no law "respecting an establishment of religion." The suit charged that since the textbooks are paid for by taxpayers, the law promotes compulsory taxation to support religious training.

The high court overturned an appellate court decision ruling the law unconstitutional. The decision was based primarily on the court's view that parochial schools serve a secular educational function as well as a religious educational function. In the controlling part of the decision, the court said:

"We cannot agree . . . that all teaching in a sectarian school is religious or that the processes of secular and religious training are so intertwined that secular textbooks furnished to students by the public are in fact instrumental in teaching religion." We agree with this view, as we have stated over a period of years. For the same reason, we believed that busing, now in effect, of parochial and private school students in Wisconsin was of benefit to the child and not to the school he attends whichever church may support it.

In view of the textbook decision by the court, its decision in the suit challenging the use of federal funds for programs for parochial and private schools may have a significant bearing on the long dispute over whether this is a violation of the First Amendment. The barrier against such suits goes back to 1923, when the court ruled that individual taxpayers lack the standing to sue the government over big government school aid programs because their tax payments are too small to show sufficient personal involvement.

A hint of the court's views on this question may be contained in the carefully worded 8 to 1 decision delivered by Chief Justice Earl Warren. He said there is "no absolute bar" in the Constitution "to suits by federal taxpayers challenging allegedly unconstitutional federal taxing and spending programs." The way is thus cleared for court action by seven New Yorkers to challenge the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act which provides special education program and library services for nonpublic schools in poor areas, among other things.

In the textbook decision, the court made it clear that secular textbooks can be provided in nonpublic schools without violation of the First Amendment. The second decision clears the way for eventual decision on how far the federal government can go in supplying aid to nonpublic schools out of tax funds. The court's ruling on this question will perhaps have even more far-reaching effects on the future of nonpublic schools in this country. If such aid is affirmed, it will help such schools to continue in operation; if not, their future is seriously clouded.

McNamara Goes to Indonesia

Robert McNamara has gone back to Southeast Asia but in a new role which also is a sign of a change in American foreign policy.

McNamara, head of the World Bank, will confer with President Suharto of Indonesia about the desperate needs of the people of Indonesia and how best the World Bank can help. But this time the United States is not going to be drawn into a unilateral bolstering of any regime, anti-Communist or not. Our government has pledged to underwrite only one-third of the economic help to Indonesia, a contribution this year of about $110 million, in comparison to the $25 billion going to Vietnam.

Indonesia is in very real need of help but it is potentially a nation of great wealth. Its undoing has been its former president's vagaries, reliance upon spectacular and a complete lack of comprehension of economics. Sukarno turned away from Western assistance and ideas, let exports pile up on the docks, machinery rust in warehouses and encouraged the Communists who tried to take over a little too soon. In the last year of his administration, the cost of living was going up in Indonesia at an annual rate of 650 per cent.

Ever since Suharto took over, there has been a question of whether the Indonesians would tolerate the austerity they would have to adopt to save their country. Inflation is still a major problem, although the rate of increase is down to 125 per cent. The military reaction against the attempted Communist coup in 1966 apparently wiped out the hard core Communists as well as a lot of others, many probably innocent. But communism thrives on discontent. And Indonesia especially lacks trained managers and economists since the Dutch did not encourage Indonesian participation during their years of rule and Sukarno didn't either.

Undoubtedly McNamara will also try to encourage more help to Indonesia by other countries, especially Japan which has pledged a third of this year's request but which has not yet fulfilled the pledge. Japanese leaders recognize the importance of Japan's assistance to underdeveloped nations in Asia in particular but the isolationism and concentration upon domestic affairs which has been paramount in Japan since the end of World War II still has much influence among the people and is used by opposing political parties, in an effort to undermine the ruling party.

A strong, independent and non-Communist Indonesia is far more important to prevent the spread of communism in Asia than Vietnam ever was. It is a country of more than 110 million people who have a strong sense of national identity. The way the United States is moving with restraint in Indonesia should not upset this national pride and determination but Indonesia needs help.

Copy of Fond du Lac Artist's Work

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for June 20, 1868.

The eminent Wisconsin artist, whose residence is at Fond du Lac, has already achieved an enviable reputation among his fellows artists in this country.

In fact, his "Castle Canon" attracted universal admiration among the art critics in Paris at the Great Exposition where it was exhibited, and was sold there for $20,000.

His recent work is a painting of "Devil's Lake," near Baraboo, Wis. The locality probably comprises the wildest and most romantic scenery in the state and Mark Harrison's taste and skill has transferred it and all its surrounding rugged beauty to canvas.

A chrome - lithograph has been taken from it which is strikingly perfect, retaining all the appropriate shades and colorings, very closely resembling an oil painting. Those who know anything of this method of imitating oil painting can realize the difficulty of producing a good facsimile, and we'll guarantee that the public will call this picture a superb one.

Mr. L. J. Nash will canvass the place for subscriptions and we bespeak for him a wide sale. Our citizens want a fine picture for their parlors or studies and this Wisconsin scene, by a Wisconsin artist, and canvassed by a worthy Badger boy will well grace any home.

The building was constructed with 2 x 6 lengths of lumber laid side on side and nailed together to form the walls. Known as the Exley Building, the structure housed several meat markets until the previous year when it became vacant. A history of the Menasha Police Department written by Otto C. Koepel, whose father organized the first department in the early 1850s, said that the building was used prior to 1882 when the jail was moved to the Arnold Building on Main Street after a prisoner hacked his way through the west wall of the old building with a jackknife and escaped.

Taylor Writes

$2 Billion Foreign Handout Being Quietly Moved Through Congress

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

Another $2 billion U.S. taxpayers' foreign handout is quietly on its way — unless brought to public view.

Down goes our gold again — down and out. We're told not to travel abroad — keep our dollars home. Yet foreign-bound dollars still pour out of our Treasury on a "the world loves me — the world loves me not" basis, as if Washington were trying to see which petal is at the bottom of the barrel. And the process has literally 14 disguises, with No. 15 coming up.

There's a sneaker in a bill somehow already approved by the Senate Banking and Currency Committee that ignores the gold crisis entirely and the taxpayers' pocketbooks as well. It is innocuous-sounding S.3218.

Since 1945 the Export-Import Bank has supported world trade by lending the U.S. taxpayers' money abroad and guaranteeing or insuring commercial loans to finance international commerce.

Some months before the British pound was devalued last fall, and hardly known to the public, the Administration asked Congress for a big boost in the bank's lending limit. The loan ceiling was lifted this. The simple fact is that both the bank and the Treasury get their funds from the taxpayers. Behind that $2 billion give-away abroad, hey, that's our money.

The bill's disguise does not stop even there. Believe it or not, the Washington Robin Hoods of the Red Ink present S.3218 as an attack on our balance-of-payments problem! Yet the essence of that problem is that we send fewer dollars abroad and bring more into the United States.

Our foreign give-aways have exceeded $130 billion. And there is a bottom to the barrel — regardless of disguises. In fact, we are officially told, and reloaded, that our country is now in a financial bind.

LIMIT ON FAILURES

There is a limit to the number of failures that America can absorb. In foreign aid our duty is to be useful not according to our desires but according to our powers. The adult and vibrant economy of this country cannot carry the load everywhere being piled upon it at our taxpayers' expense if also we are to be held responsible for the prosperity in countless nations just learning to crawl.

In August, 1968, on the fifth anniversary of the Alliance for Progress, President Johnson promised American goals in Latin America of 140 million new jobs, a million new homes, and countless new classrooms, with no desirable way to achieve these even though our taxpayers have been putting about $1 billion a year down there.

These are the kind of promises that give birth to quiet little S.3218 and other backdoor handouts that complicate our crisis even beyond anything that appears on the surface. In fact, Rep. Otto Passman (D., La.) finds that the current foreign aid declared to be $3 billion is actually closer to $9 billion, with nearly $6 billion buried in 14 other separate appropriations.

The only way to stop these disguised handouts is to stop them. Quiet S.3218 should be stopped, here and now, on the floor of the U.S. Senate.

Warren and Leonard Are Both Potential Governor Candidates

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — A perceptive Republican politician recently observed that in spite of his endorsement by acclamation at the Republican state convention for the new term, Lt. Gov. Jack Olson could very well look askance at some of the other endorsements of candidates made at that rally.

Nobody has made a secret of the fact, and Olson least of anyone, that he is waiting for Gov. Warren Knowles to retire so that he can run for the gubernatorial nomination. He wanted to run more than four years ago, but he was obliged to withdraw when it became apparent that the party organization preferred Knowles for the task of trying to bring the party back in the state capitol.

Thus he has waited patiently for a long time, on the assumption among others that his services as lieutenant governor have earned for him a kind of preference for the nomination to the top ticket job after Knowles.

MAY NOT HAPPEN

But it may not come to pass, at least without a contest.

One of the reasons why many Republicans backed State Senator Warren of Green Bay for attorney general, in spite of his comparative juniority, is that they believe the office can be retaken this year and that Warren has qualities of the kind that may make him a suitable nominee for governor later.

Be it noted that such speculations do not arise from anything Warren has said or done; or plans to do. He is a man of considerable modesty. He has little of the pretension that appears to come so naturally to other men who find themselves in prominent roles in political life. Probably such talk is even mildly embarrassing to him, as a man who has maintained good relations with the lieutenant governor and with his other colleagues in the legislature.

But there is another potential Olson foe in the back-ground.

LEONARD LOOKS AHEAD

Sen. Jerris Leonard of suburban Milwaukee with complete candor describes himself as the underdog in his challenge of Democratic Sen. Gaylord Nelson which doubtless he is as the outlook can now be appraised.

Why then should this man with a busy law office and a large family of children be anxious to take on the role of challenging a popular incumbent senator? A plausible guess is that there are two reasons. One is that nothing is ever certain in politics. There have been upsets in senatorial elections before. Nelson knows and remembers this better than most because he upset the calculations of most observers and politicians when he unhorsed Alexander Wiley, a 24 year veteran, in the U.S. Senate.

Secondly, Leonard is doubtless reasoning that if he makes a respectable run, he will be entitled to include himself among those considered for the gubernatorial nomination and endorsement in 1970 — when the office will be the more desirable and powerful because the constitutional amendment providing for a four-year term takes effect with that election.

There is a widespread misconception about the duties of the lieutenant governor and its relation to the state administration.

REALLY ISN'T 'LIEUTENANT'

The occupant of that office is not "lieutenant" in the ordinary or literal sense of the word. He does not assist the governor or participate in the administrative process — except during gubernatorial absences — and thus has comparatively little chance for the self-promotion that the candidate aspiring to higher office needs and often requires. Olson, moreover, is a busy businessman in private life, and together with his duties of presiding in the state senate for protracted periods, has less chance for the travel and speech making that other high officers regard as a natural function of their places.

The lieutenant governorship should be made more important and visible and responsible, but it probably won't be. The reasons for the incongruity will be touched upon in another dispatch.

Strictly Personal

Religious Education Done Best in Home

BY SYDNEY HARRIS

Last month I appeared on a television panel with, among others, William Gibson, the playwright. One of the questions the moderator asked him was about the "religious education" of his children.

Gibson replied that he had been asked this question all during his tour of the country, and he couldn't understand why it seemed so important to so many people.

"We don't give our children

any religious education at all," he said. "We don't believe in it, and don't think it makes any difference."

I have run into the same question over and over, and have given the same answer as Gibson — even though he is a professed atheist and I am a confirmed theist. I happen to think he is right on this matter.

Almost all the "religious education" I have seen and heard stresses the (to me) wrong aspects of religion, and ignores the right ones. It stresses particularism, creed, dogma, ritual, separatism, and "pride" in the individual denomination or sect the child happens to belong to.

None of it — except, per-lunch may go to the grove and eat. Those who have 50 cents can go to the Holt Hotel for a bounteous repast. And those of you who have neither, can get out your Bible and read about Belshazzar's feast."

haps, among the Unitarians — stresses universalism, feelings, attitudes, motives, and the proper humility before a God who is beyond religion, beyond color, beyond class, beyond nation, beyond all our sublimity categories that divide and destroy us.

Giving a child a genuinely "religious education" consists in setting a model for the children in the daily family life — in practicing what you preach and not preaching at all; in showing the child how to become more just, more generous, more flexible, more tolerant, more critical of himself and less critical of others, more responsive to his own inner moral imperative than to the doctrine of any ecclesiastical body.

Indeed, much if not most of the so-called rebellion among college youth today consists of their awakening to the blunt and unlovely fact that their parents and their parents' circle use religion only when it serves their selfish and prideful purposes, and ignore it when some religious injunction happens to cut across their own self-interest.

No amount of "religious education" can make a child one whit better, if religion is separated from daily life and put in a "holy" place of its own, as is done in the great majority of cases. Indeed, it will make him worse when, in the adolescent stage, he awakens to genuine moral and spiritual promptings, and sees the gulf between his Sunday School sermons and life as it is actually lived by most of us.

I think the great parental concern with religious education is rooted in the same concern as with education generally — parents want the churches and the schools to do what only the family can do, and call their abdication of responsibility "social virtue."

State Urban Bus Operations Having Financial Troubles

Appleton Utility Asks Subsidy, Owner Says 'Business No Good'

MADISON (AP)—Most urban bus operations in Wisconsin are in a bad way financially.

Increased use of autos and soaring costs of operating buses share the major blame.

"Some means will have to be found, like subsidies or more revenue, if cities are to continue to have the kind of service they now have," says William Bromfield, director of the Public Service Commission transportation division.

The PSC keeps tabs on earnings of utilities through their annual financial statements.

PSC records show that the Ashland operation in 1967 had to spend $1.57 for every $1 it took in. In Superior, the expense was $1.31 for every $1. In Beloit the figure was $1.08, in Oshkosh, $1.02 and Stevens Point, $1.31.

Better in Appleton

In Eau Claire and Appleton the ratio was a little better—it cost 97 cents to take in $1. In La Crosse the figure was 96 cents.

In Green Bay, the bus operation is owned by Wisconsin Public Service Corp., which also sells electricity. The bus operation loses money so electricity, in effect, finances transportation.

Because the investment of private money into urban bus firms promises bleak prospects, many Wisconsin cities are trying to find new solutions to bus problems, recognizing the transportation needs of children, the elderly and the non-car owners.

Cities also recognize that traffic problems are bad enough without forcing use of more private cars.

In some cities bus company operations have been helped by taking over the job of transporting school children. Financial stability of an urban carrier improves when it can handle school needs, too.

The 1967 Legislature recognized the plight of bus firms and the impact on a city when buses stop moving by authorizing cities to acquire the utilities. Madison appears to be the first large city to take this step.

Same Holding On

An Associated Press survey shows what a number of state communities have done, are doing, or hope to do. It also shows that some bus firms are holding their own.

Fond du Lac, without service since last December when a privately owned firm went out of business, organized a cooperative to seek a PSC permit to operate as a common motor carrier. Service in Fond du Lac and North Fond du Lac is the goal.

Janesville's bus system is privately owned and it's completely subsidized by taxes. It has shown losses in each of the last five years. The net loss in 1967 was $24,055, compared with $43,937 the previous year. The reduction in loss came because a fare increase went into effect last March.

The PSC found that without the subsidy operations would have to end.

Sheboygan operations go back to the 1930's, serving the city, Sheboygan Falls and Kohler. There are no signs of interruption in the long span of operation and no apparent need for subsidizing or reducing service.

"Sheboygan people have always been bus minded," said Howard Shamer, president of the firm since 1958.

Things are not going well for the Fox River Bus Line Inc. of Appleton, noted Olof Lundquist.

"Business No Good"

"We have 43 buses and business is no good," said Lundquist.

He says his firm lost $6,000 because of one extension of service.

Lundquist has asked for city help in the way of a subsidy.

"I talked to city officials six months ago and asked for a one-cent per mile subsidization, but I haven't gotten any action," he complained.

Waukesha is served by a privately owned utility, operating within the city as well as on intercity runs to Milwaukee, Oconomowoc and a nearby shopping center. There have been no signs of going out of business or talk of a subsidy or reduced service.

The owner of the privately held firm that serves the twin cities of Marinette and Menominee, Mich., said, "business is not bad.... We're making a living."

His buses make extra morning and afternoon runs to haul school children.

The La Crosse Transit Co. reported it is operating in the black and that school business helps.

"Business isn't as good as it used to be," said Alfred Schlicht, assistant manager, "but we're holding our own."

The last La Crosse fare increase was in February 1966.

Raymond Piotrowski, owner of the Stevens Point bus firm, described his operation as "nifty and tuck," adding that he keeps cost down by doing most of his own repairs.

"Things are tough; you can't work 18 hours a day all your life."

Piotrowski has not asked for a subsidy but said he'll need that kind of help if he's forced to extend service.

He added the city could help him by putting benches or shelters at bus stops.

Fred Fey, vice president and general manager of the Eau Claire Transportation Co. described the financial status of his firm as solid, mainly because of a school bus contract.

In 1954 the firm had losses but elimination of some night, Sunday and holiday operations overcame the deficit.

A new concept in urban busing went into effect in Racine June 10 with use of smaller vehicles—seats for 19 passengers and room for 16 standees.

The new service, provided by Flash Cab Co., replaced that provided by Lakeshore Transit Inc., which went out of business June 8. The old conventional coaches went when Transit ceased operations.

Flash Cab has the city's taxi franchise and holds a contract with the area school district to bus pupils. Before Lakeshore went out of business it asked the city for help via a contract that would have paid for furnishing evening service.

The city rejected that idea and also a resolution to provide $10,000 for a study of bus transportation.

The new firm operates 11 routes from a central passenger pickup and discharge point in downtown Racine.

The City of Kenosha rejected a bid for help from Lakeshore Transit-Kenosha Inc., owner of the former Racine operation. There is no immediate indication of plans to abandon service in Kenosha. The firm holds a school bus contract there.

Wausau set up a transit system study committee with city hall, the Chamber of Commerce, business, labor and school officials combining forces to find a way to keep privately owned Wausau Transit Lines operating.

The utility serves Wausau, Schofield, Rothschild and a portion of the town of Weston.

The firm sought, but failed to get, permission to reduce service. It was allowed, however, to increase fares last February.

The company has a school hauling contract.

The city council is awaiting findings of the study committee before acting on the transit firm's request that the city seek Mass Transportation Act help.

Madison's City Council, with authorization from voters in April, plans to take over operations of the Madison Bus Co., a privately owned firm.

A bond issue makes it possible to acquire the operation by 1969 and until that time the city will give the firm a $22,000 a month subsidy to keep going.

The company, in return has held back an application pending before the PSC to go out of business.

The firm was hit by a strike last summer. It lasted two months. Loss of service provided impetus for the city to take over or walk.

Milwaukee has in its Transport Co. a firm one of its officials said must be regarded as one of the most successful in the country, among big cities

Mayors Favor Strong Federal Gun Legislation

"This is because it's a privately held corporation and it's still in business," said Galen Larson, an administrative assistant.

He said the utility does not quite reach the 7½ per cent investment return the PSC says it is entitled to.

The company gets no subsidy but the state Transportation Act of 1955 provided it and other transportation utilities with a break on licensing and fuel taxes.

The company was hit by a strike in April 1966 and lost six down the law, the country's mayors agreed here Saturday.

At the general assembly of delegates to the U.S. Conference of Mayors, a resolution was adopted calling for Congress to curtail mail order gun and ammunition sales to juveniles and enforce registration of all firearms by a strong firearms control law.

The mayors also urged President Johnson to use his executive powers to immediately suspend the importing of firearms "which accounts for the bulk of firearms sold in this country."

Change to a no-frost refrigerator-freezer!

Funny for a cartoon character but not so funny for you when you have to match your muscles against ice cube trays and food packages buried in frost and frozen in like cement in an old-fashioned freezing unit.

Change to a no-frost refrigerator-freezer and end this uneven struggle for all time. Ended, too, will be the periodic defrosting chore—with its scraping, slopping, and mopping.

But, look ahead, buy big—provide ample storage space for all the new exciting frozen foods that will be available tomorrow as well as for those you can buy today.

A new big no-frost refrigerator-freezer, because of new and more efficient design and insulating materials, will probably fit into the same space as your old one.

See your dealer and find out for yourself.

Camping Has Become Significant Business

BY SYLVIA PORTER

June marks the opening of the 1968 camping season—a signal for more than 15,000,000 of us to go off on camping trips and in the process, to spend over $1 billion on travel trailers alone, plus hundreds of millions on camping equipment, on getting to and from the camping grounds, on overnight fees and on other expenses.

Until recently, camping in the U.S. meant stuffing a sleeping bag, some warm clothes, a few cooking utensils and first aid equipment into a rucksack, slinging it over your back and hiking toward the hills. But today, the typical camper travels in a fully-equipped trailer, cooks on gas stoves instead of campfires, watches TV instead of beavers. Today's typical campsite provides living comforts ranging from hot showers to hair dryers, clothes washers to canteens.

Obviously, camping has become a significant business in the outdoor recreation industry and also a significant expense to the individual camper or camping family.

Porter

As one measure of camping's spectacular growth just in this decade, the new 1968 Rand McNally Guidebook to Campgrounds lists 12,000 campgrounds in the U.S. and Canada (with 450,000 individual campsites), 2,000 more campgrounds than last year and up from only 5,000 campgrounds listed in 1961. Today, Rand McNally also counts 9,000 camping areas specifically set to accommodate travel trailers, with 250,000 separate sites for trailers.

By 1980, the Interior Department's Bureau of Outdoor Recreation predicts, camping will become the second fastest growing outdoor activity in this country, outpaced only by water skiing.

Between now and the year 2000, the Bureau also predicts, camping will grow by a phenomenal 238 per cent.

A fundamental force propelling the camping surge is the familiar one, the steady liberalization of company policies covering vacations and holidays.

Another factor, clearly, is the relentless urban-suburbanization of our country, leading in turn to a need on the part of millions to get out of the city and the suburbs and to head for what wilderness is left. A third obvious factor is that, next to staying home, camping is about the cheapest way there is for a family to spend a holiday or a vacation.

What camping guides are basic for you?

If you're the back-to-nature type and really prefer to rough it, you can take your family on a camping trip by foot or by canoe in any one of thousands of national and state parks for as little as $50 a week, assuming you don't go too far from home and you already own basic equipment such as cooking utensils, sleeping bags and back packs.

Even if you have to rent these basics, the total cost for a family of three or four needn't run over $75 a week.

But if you prefer the "motel in the wilderness" type of camping, involving rented travel trailers, overnight fees at private campgrounds, electricity and gas bills, etc.—costs can rise to $300 or more a week.

If you're considering taking your first camping expedition, your best bet is to avoid an outlay of hundreds of dollars to buy trailers, tents, etc. Rent them instead.

Don't even start to buy until you find out whether or not you like the whole idea of camping and, if so, what style of camping you enjoy most.

Cyclists to Need Special Headgear By First of Month

Area law enforcement agencies issued a reminder today that motorcyclists must wear protective headgear as of July 1.

A recently-passed state law provides that "no person shall operate or ride upon a motor driven cycle on any highway unless such person is wearing protective headgear of the type and in the manner approved by the commissioner (of the State Motor Vehicle Department)." Cyclists not wearing the required headgear will be arrested, police warned. Minimum fine for the violation is $20 plus court costs, under the uniform state bond schedule recently adopted in Outagamie County.

According to the new state law, protective headgear is not required of operators or passengers of three-wheeled vehicles equipped with cabs which entirely enclose the passenger compartment.

man, and Jack Metz, county commander, as installing officers.

Other men elected in May also assumed office. Members voted to sponsor a boy to Camp Wawbeek this summer and approved the Drum and Bugle Corps participation in the Appleton Flag Day parade.

Harold Van Dyke reported on the spring conference and members voted not to have a hospitality room in conjunction with the American Legion convention at Appleton due to the proximity to the village. Delegates named to the state convention included Demerath, Harry Samuels, Virginia Samuels, James Lenz, Carl Hammen, John Demerath, Paul Casey and Leon Toonen.

Elections to Start

1,050 Youths Attend Boys' State Opening

RIPON (AP) — Preparations began today for a week of mock elections for mythical state officials, with 1,050 high school juniors here for the 27th annual Badger Boys' State convention.

Two parties, the Nationalists and the Federalists, were picked Sunday as organization started. The winners of the elections will hold office at city, county and state levels of the mythical state of Badger.

The convention began Saturday with a talk by Ripon College President Bernard S. Adams.

He said violence and hatred are not bred into the national character of American Society.

Leads to Violence
Moderates in America fear uncontrolled social protest because it almost inevitably leads to violence, Adams said.

He said that on college campuses, there has been insistence on non-discriminatory housing and campus life.

"Now black students demand segregated housing, special course and study arrangement, and student organizations to which only blacks can belong. Are we moving backward rather than forward in our search for complete racial equality?" he asked.

Badger Boys' State is sponsored by the Wisconsin American Legion.

Meanwhile in Madison, about 500 girls gathered for the 25th convention of Badgers Girls' State.

It is similar to Boys' State, with mock elections and political parties.

The convention, on the University of Wisconsin campus, is sponsored by the UW extension institute of governmental affairs and the American Legion auxiliary.

Gov. Warren P. Knowles will address the delegates Thursday.

Blaze Under Hood of Auto Is Extinguished

Appleton firemen were summoned to W. Wisconsin Avenue and N. Mason Street about 8:20 p.m. Sunday when fire broke out under the hood of an auto owned by James Lawver, 1406 W. Kamps Ave.

The fire started when the stolen from a car owned by Robert Steffens, route 2, Appleton, while the auto was parked near a north Richmond Street restaurant early Sunday.

Order Crossing at C & NW Tracks, Charlotte Street

The Wisconsin Public Service Commission has ordered the city of Appleton and the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Co. to establish a grade pedestrian crossing at the Charlotte Street intersection with the railroad company's tracks on the northeast side of the city.

Barricades across the east sidewalk of Charlotte Street installed by the railroad company in April, 1967 have been ordered removed. The order also requires the railroad to install appropriate signs and maintain flange rails, while the city must maintain surfacing.

The barricades had been set up and the crossing closed in April 1967 by order of the public service commission.

A considerable number of persons continued to cross the tracks, wearing a path around the barricades, and the city petitioned the commission for re-establishment of a crossing.

An automatic signal will not be installed.

Cyclists Required to Validate Licenses To Operate Vehicle

Validation of drivers' licenses for motorcycle operators has begun under recent legislation requiring drivers of motor-driven cycles to have licenses which have been specifically endorsed for cycle operation by Sept. 1.

Present holders of operator's licenses may have their license validated by proving to the license examiner one year and 5000 miles of cycle driving experience and by providing some information on the type of cycle and paying a $2 fee.

Persons not meeting the requirements for validation will take an examination at a date to be announced later. The examination will include knowledge of traffic laws, vision and a skill test on the operator's own cycle.

Tape Player Stolen

A stereo tape player was stolen from a car owned by Robert Steffens, route 2, Appleton, while the auto was parked near a north Richmond Street restaurant early Sunday.

Value Given For Hortonville School District

Equalized Values Up $2,335,300 From Last Year

HORTONVILLE — Equalized valuation in the school district here increased $2,335,300 over the year ago according to figures released by Supt. George S. Akin.

Equalized valuation reached a record $36,548,800 during 1967, compared with $34,213,500 the previous year. Assessed valuations in the district increased $1,925,982 during the same period for a total of $16,098,922.

Equalized valuation figures are furnished to all school districts annually and are used to figure out tax rates after schools have set their total levy for local tax purposes. The state adjusts equalized valuations so that all property is taxed on an equitable basis despite location.

Town of Greenville showed the largest increase as equalized valuation climbed $1,426,200 to $13,627,400. However, assessed valuation in the town showed an even greater increase as property values went from $4,596,875 to $6,312,115 — an increase of $1,715,240.

The town is expected to pay about 37.3 per cent of the tax levy — an increase of just over 1.5 per cent.

Hortonville had a $501,700 increase in equalized valuation to $7,707,000. During the same time, however, assessed value only increased $61,400 as it climbed from $3,599,300 to $3,660,700. The village share of the levy will amount to 21.09 per cent — an increase of about .03 per cent.

Town of Center equalized, valuation increased $151,400 to $3,732,000 and its share of the tax levy is 10.35 per cent. Town of Dale equalized value raised only $19,500 to $1,957,000 and will pay 5.35 per cent of the levy.

Town of Ellington equalized valuation climbed $93,200 to $5,526,900, but its share of the levy decreased nearly one per cent to 15.12 per cent.

Equalized valuation in the Town of Grand Chute increased $42,100 to $1,054,000 and its share of the levy is 2.88 per cent. Town of Hortonville equalized valuation was given as $2,389,900, an increase of $98,200, and its portion of the levy is 6.54 per cent.

A $3,000 increase in equalized valuation was noted for the Town of Liberty which has an equalized value of $504,700. Its share of the levy is 1.38 per cent.

Sleeping Pills Safe If Used With Care

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M. D.
Dear Dr. Molner: Please write about sleeping pills and how dangerous they are. Can they be taken every night (one a night) if you cannot sleep otherwise and if you are under a doctor's care? — Mrs. G.B.

The most precise answer I can give you is that sleeping pills are not dangerous — if you follow instructions and have good sense.

It is important to get enough sleep. Some folks, one way and another, become so keyed up rule never to leave a bottle at the bedside. If you normally take one pill (or two if your doctor permits it) put the pill or two and a glass of water where you can reach them. But keep the rest of the pills at a safe distance, so you can't sleepily reach for an extra one.

Those are the principal dangers of sleeping medications. Use them strictly according to instructions, and you need have no fear of them.

Dear Dr. Molner: Many elderly people are troubled with brown "age spots" on the skin, and an article by you would be of interest. — I. P.

These age spots are very common, and also perfectly harmless, so while they may be a cosmetic problem, they are not a health problem.

Medically speaking, I don't know any way to prevent them, and I don't know of any certain way to remove them. I have been told that some of the cosmetics on the market work very well for some people.

My suggestion is to try one of these cosmetic preparations. If it works for you, that's fine. If it doesn't, then forget about the age spots. They won't hurt you.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have been told that the skin contains certain vitamins and too much bathing is harmful because it destroys these vitamins. Is this true? — Mrs. E. B.

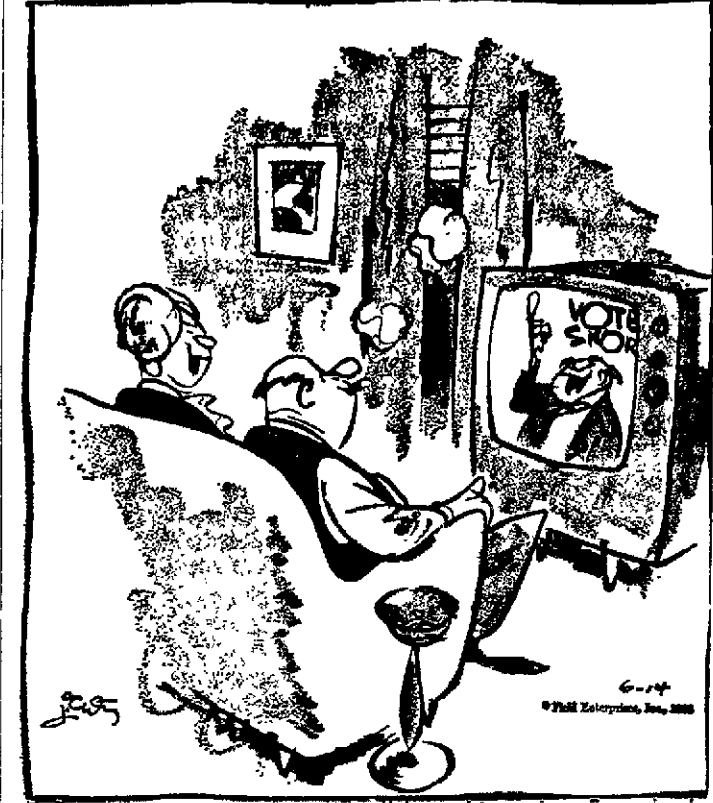

Not true. However, over-bathing can wash away some of the natural oils in the skin and thus cause dry skin and itching.

Note to B.J.A. and others: No, a hiatal hernia, unlike common hernias, does not manifest itself by any bulge or swelling that will be detectable on the surface of the body. It is internal. The same is true of diverticulosis.

To learn of the many factors that can be involved in the treatment of hiatal hernia, which concerns the esophagus, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Post-Crescent for a copy of his booklet, "Hiatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It," enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Rifle Group Urges Letter Barrage on Federal Gun Bills

NRA Counterattack Expected Against Tightening Regulations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Rifle Association, its amazing record of blocking strict federal gun controls in jeopardy, has begun its counter-attack.

And if the gun lobby lives up to its past successes, hundreds of thousands of letters opposing gun controls will rain down on Congress by mid-week—just before a House committee considers restrictions on gun sales.

The deluge of mail will be in response to a weekend plea by the NRA for its 900,000 members to “express their views without delay to their senators and congressmen.”

The letter-writing campaign, a favorite gun lobby tactic, is the NRA's answer to the demands for tough gun controls flowing from the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy with a $30.95 pistol.

In the past—even after President John F. Kennedy was murdered with a mail order rifle—the NRA and its allies have successfully smothered proposals to regulate gun sales or require registration of guns.

This comes in the face of overwhelming public support of such legislation. This spring, for example, pollster Louis Harris reported 71 per cent of Americans favored stricter gun control laws.

What is the NRA? How does it operate? Why does it pack so much power?

Founded in 1871 by a group of National Guard officers interested in improving their marksmanship, the NRA has grown over the years to an organization with 900,000 members and a net worth of nearly $12 million. It operates from an eight-story building in downtown Washington. Embellished in gold letters above the main entrance is the basic NRA credo: “The right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed.”

From Constitution

(This is from the second article of the Bill of Rights: “A well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed.”)

Inside the building, NRA President Harold W. Glassen puffs on his pipe and proclaims: “Make no mistake about it—there is a step-by-step move afoot to accomplish the ultimate deprivation of the American right to keep and bear arms.”

Glassen, a Lansing, Mich., lawyer, gets very annoyed by references to the NRA as a gun lobby.

“All this talk about the gun lobby is baloney,” he said in an interview. “We don't tell anyone to write to their congressmen.”

Last Saturday, a two-page letter signed by Glassen went to all NRA members. “Unless the sportsmen of America clearly express their views without delay to their senators and congressmen,” it said, “individuals will be prohibited from acquiring long guns (rifles and shotguns) in interstate commerce and general firearms registration will become a reality.”

500,000 Letters

The NRA's ability to generate mail is a major ingredient to its successful fight against tough gun control laws. NRA officials have boasted in the past that they can depend on their members to flood Capitol Hill with up to 500,000 letters within 72 hours.

Veterans of earlier battles over gun control legislation don't doubt NRA's claims. “The first surge of mail after an assassination is always overwhelming in support of strict gun laws,” says one congressional aide. “But about a week later the NRA mail takes over and continues for weeks.”

Governor of Confusion Gets Proper Welcome

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — A 50-foot red carpet was rolled out at the Charleston Municipal Airport to welcome Gov. John Connally of Texas when he arrived for the Southern Governors Conference.

French Students Lose Headquarters of Revolt majority in legislative elections beginning next Sunday. Only with such a majority, Pompidou said, can necessary reforms be made in universities and other sectors of French society. He repeated the government charge that the “great danger” during the French crisis last month was “the attempt by the Communist Party to take power.”

The fighting Sunday night involved hit-and-run skirmishes by bands of young people. But the police did not let the students establish any fixed positions during three hours of battle and chased them off the main boulevards. Faced with an uneven match, student leaders dispersed their followers.

Occupied May 13

The Sorbonne had been occupied by the students since May 13, at the start of the revolt. Last week the occupying committee ordered its followers out of all but five lecture halls to clear away accumulated filth. After the cleanup, only a token force remained in the building.

The end of the occupation of the Sorbonne seemed to indicate the collapse of the student revolt. A number of other university buildings in Paris and provincial towns still are held by students. But the Sorbonne was the focal point and the others are expected to capitulate whenever the government decides to move.

The education ministry has promised to start talks with students and professors on university reforms. All sides agree that many changes are needed in the university system and administration, but reorganization is expected to be a long and difficult process.

'Pawn of Paris Peace Talks'

Bloodshed But No Victory in DMZ

BY JOHN T. WHEELER

Associated Press Writer

DONG HA, Vietnam (AP) — Despite the bloodbath in the demilitarized zone area so far this year, neither side has been able to get the upper hand.

Like weary fighters, American and North Vietnamese battalions continue to slug it out in a fight that has a seemingly unlimited number of rounds.

AP News Analysis

“The DMZ has become a pawn of the Paris peace talks,” one senior U.S. officer said.

He said the Communists are pushing for a major victory that would give their negotiators in Paris leverage to pry concessions out of the United States and later South Vietnam.

Looking back across five and a half months of fighting this year, another U.S. officer said: “In January I would never have believed they could have kept up the pace or that we would ever suffer so many casualties.”

The coming months are expected to dwarf the fighting so far this year that the U.S. Command says has cost about 20,000 enemy dead.

For all the death along the DMZ and recent U.S. reinforcements, the enemy is still said to have as many combat troops as the allies, the same ratio Hanoi was able to maintain last year.

Propaganda fed to North Vietnamese troops clearly shows Hanoi's thinking. As reported by prisoners the line is: “We must keep up the fight. The outcome of the talks in Paris depends on how well we do in the battlefield.”

Intelligence reports say newly arrived troops have been told getting plenty of replacements. They are “to complete mopping up operations against the U.S. through Our job is a hell of a lot tougher and more dangerous for all intents and purposes.”

U.S. intelligence believes a serious indication of how seriously Hanoi's DMZ divisions have been along the DMZ. Defenses are great—entire replacement regiments have moved into position intact troops have artillery to back them up. Something they don't enjoy in large quantities anywhere else in the country.

Some U.S. officers blame the partial bombing halt ordered by Washington to get preliminary peace talks off the ground with increasing the danger to U.S. troops in the northern line.

“Hell, they get a running start because of the comparatively smaller number of helicopters all the way from Hanoi to within 10 miles of the frontier before the bombers can go to work on necks mobile.”

Supreme Court Rules

Freight Rate Cuts Denied Railroads

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court denied permission today for railroads to cut freight rates to meet truck and barge competition.

Agreeing with the Interstate Commerce Commission, the court ruled 8-1 that rate-cut proposals may not be weighed by the standard of “out-of-pocket” costs.

The “out-of-pocket” formula claimed two railroads, the Pennsylvania and the Louisville and Nashville, set below-cost rates in 1965 when they dropped to $5.11 a ton from $11.86 a ton their rate for moving ingot molds from Neville Island and Pittsburgh, Pa., to Steelton, Ky.

For 10 years almost all the ingot molds had been moved between the points by trucks and barges and since 1960 the charge had been $5.11 a ton, exactly the new rate posted by the railroads.

Court Refuses To Stop Jailing Chronic Drunks

Says Practice Provides Chance For Sobering Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — A divided Supreme Court refused today to prohibit the jailing of chronic alcoholics for public drunkenness.

Justice Thurgood Marshall, pronouncing the court's judgment said: “The inescapable fact is that there is no agreement among members of the medical profession about what it means to say that ‘alcoholism’ is a ‘disease’.”

And, he continued, there is no agreement among doctors and social workers on the cause of alcoholism, there is no consensus as to why certain treatments work in certain cases, and facilities for treating impoverished alcoholics “are woefully lacking throughout the country.”

Provides Opportunity

He added: “It would be tragic to return large numbers of helplessly, sometimes dangerous and frequently unsanitary inebriates to the streets of our cities with-

Four justices dissented. They are Abe Fortas, William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr. and Potter Stewart.

The court had been asked to rule that an alcoholic who has lost the power to control his drinking cannot be convicted of public drunkenness. This stand was based on the Eighth Amendment's prohibition against “cruel and unusual punishment.”

Administrators Cost UW Close To $1 Million

25 Top Men Get $49,000 in Salary Hike From Regents

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Top administrative salaries in the University of Wisconsin system neared a $1 million total as the school's Board of Regents granted $48,500 in raises to 25 top administrators last week.

The hikes came as the regents approved a budget for the coming fiscal year that topped $222 million in spending. The 31 top positions in the system now earn a total of $945,450 a year, according to UW budget records.

All but $10,000 of the sum comes from state tax funds.

The salary hike list includes boosts of $2,500 a year for seven top deans of the UW's Madison campus. Another dean received less than one-third of that increase — $800. And three others, recently appointed, received no salary increases.

Madison Administrators

The survey includes second level administrators from the Madison campus, but does not list those from other branches of the UW system — such as the Milwaukee campus. In those other areas, only top ranking administrators are listed.

President Fred Harvey Harrington was awarded a $2,000 increase to $47,000 a year.

Vice Presidents: Robert Clodius, up $2,000 to $37,250, Edwin Young, hired at $37,000; Neil Cafferty, up $1,000 to $29,000; Charles Engman, $1,500 to $28,000; George Field, $2,000 to $26,000.

Chancellors: William Sewell, up $1,000 to $36,000, of which $10,000 comes from private trust funds; J. Martin Klotzsch, up $1,500 to $32,500; Lorenz Adolphson, $1,000 to $29,500; Donald McNeil, $2,000 to $29,500; Edward W. Weidner, $1,500 to $29,000; Irvin G. Wyllie, $1,500 to $29,000.

Vice Chancellors

Vice Chancellors: Bryant Kearn, up $2,500 to $30,500; James Cleary, $1,200 to $21,700; Robert Atwell, $2,000 to $22,500; vacancy, about $22,000.

Deans: Leon Epstein, up $2,500 to $32,500; Glenn Pound, up $2,500 to $32,500; Donald McCarty, $2,500 to $29,000; Spencer Kimball, appointed at $35,000; Robert Bock, up $2,500 to $30,000; Samuel Proctor, appointed at $32,000; E. A. Gaumnitz, up $800 to $26,000; Peter Eichman, $2,500 to $32,500; Kurt Wendt, $2,500 to $32,500; David Perlman, appointed at $26,000; Leroy Luberg, $1,500 to $24,000.

Special assistants to the president: Donald Percy, up $3,000 to $24,000; Robert Taylor, $3,000 to $25,000.

UW director of planning and facilities Wallace Lemon received a $2,500 hike to $25,000.

Mills Spend $8.8 Million On Pollution

MADISON — Wisconsin pulp and paper mills spent $8.8 million on pollution abatement equipment and research during 1967, and stream conditions were noticeably better last year than in previous years including 1966, state water control authorities revealed to the technical Advisory committee of the Wisconsin Pulp and Paper Industry meeting here recently.

Every mill stream showed improvement, Carl J. Blabaum, chief of research section, Division of Research Development, reported in summarizing the findings of the 1967 cooperative stream surveys.

More than 36 per cent of the river miles which in 1966 generally showed less than 2 parts per million of dissolved oxygen have now moved up in quality. This was indicated by analysis of weekly water samples taken downstream from mills.

Big Improvement

There was a big improvement in minimum dissolved oxygen results at sampling stations on all streams, Richard M. Billings, committee chairman, announced. Responding to an official request from the Division of Resource Development, the industry representatives voted to continue at no cost to the state the cooperative water testing program throughout the 1968 sampling season.

Pulp and paper mills have regularly conducted testing for many years at an annual expense of approximately $50,000. By performing these tests with local employees the mills spare the state the necessity to send out official personnel at an estimated annual cost above $100,000.

Better Courses, Libraries Improvements Asked In Teachnig History

FOND DU LAC — The Winnebago and unit of the Wisconsin Council for Local History joined the campaign for special courses relating to hometown history in both teacher training and library schools of the state. The regional group in its sixth annual convention here unanimously approved a resolution already passed by two other Council units. The resolution was introduced by William J. Schereck, office of local history, State Historical Society of Wisconsin, one of the main speakers at the convention.

The consensus of the resolution is that there is a universal lack of teaching of local history in Wisconsin schools and an equally universal absence of organized local history collections in school and public libraries.

Not Trained

It was brought out that librarians are not trained in the methods of collecting, processing and managing of local materials. This is a deficiency to non-book materials such as manuscripts, documents and other information. The resolution also notes that teachers are neither trained in the use of such materials nor in methods of teaching local history.

In the form of a petition to the advisory committee of the Wisconsin Council of Local History, the resolution suggests the Council prepare recommendations to library schools of the state that they add at least one required course to their curricula in the field of handling local history collections.

A similar suggestion is made for better teacher training in the local history field, namely that a minimum of one course be required for history and social science teachers.

Adopted Earlier

The resolution was initiated and passed by the south central regional convention May 25 at Fort Atkinson. A concurring resolution was approved June 1 at the Hillsboro convention of the Southwestern Regional group.

Other highlights of the convention program included the talk "Accent on Youth" by Council chairman, Mrs. Robert Jacobson, Oconomowoc, and reports from the various societies.

A tour of Galloway House and Village, maintained by the Fond du Lac County Historical Society, preceded the luncheon and business meeting at Ponderosa Inn.

Visiting Experts Lose Match

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

The road to success is paved with rocks, which your competitors will pick up and heave at you. A rock of this kind stopped the six bridge experts who call themselves the Dallas Aces in the recent regional tournament in Los Angeles.

Dallas Ace Bobby Wolff opened the three of clubs when today's hand was played in the first round of the Los Angeles Knockout Team Championship. Ira Corn won with the ace of clubs and returned the deuce of clubs to the king.

Wolff was at the crossroads. Did South hold two five-card major suits or did he have a singleton? Since the bidding suggested that South had real heart length, Wolff returned a low trump at the third trick.

This defense would be correct if South had East's queen of hearts and East had South's king of dummy. Except against a trump switch, South would ruff three black cards in dummy and would take his own five trumps and the two side aces.

Golden Opportunity

Wolff's switch to trumps at the third trick gave a golden opportunity to Joe Titone, young Duarte, Calif., expert. Titone captured the queen of hearts with the king, cashed the king of diamonds, and then led a low heart toward dummy. West played low, and declarer daringly tried a finesse with dummy's nine of hearts.

When this finesse worked, South ruffed a diamond and led a trump to dummy's ace. This drew the rest of the trumps, and dummy's diamonds were good. Titone scored 650 points for making four hearts with an overtrick. At the other table of the match the Dallas pair who held the North-South cards stopped at three diamonds, a sensible contract which cost them enough international match points to lose the match.

Ants Are No Longer Big Worry

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: To my dismay, I found carpenter ants somehow got a strong foothold in my log cabin. Besides the exterminator, are there any good ideas? — Minocqua, Wis.

A: A good exterminator is far and away the best idea, seeing as how the any colony is well established. But there's no law saying you can't try to find the nest and soak it liberally with kerosene, or jetspray some insecticide into the hole.

Q: From ease of maintenance, which is better for a driveway: concrete or blacktop? — Boston.

A: Assuming comparable workmanship, I vote for concrete. Not that it will wear better, but because it needs no maintenance. But blacktop should have a top dressing every year, to keep it in top shape and protect against ice damage due to cracks where water worked in.

Q: Last summer I bought a load of pea gravel for my driveway at a good price, too. I thought it would pack down during the winter. But no, it gets carried into the garage and leaves ruts which must be raked every week. Any ideas? — Columbus.

A: If you haven't had a heavy roller working over it, it's definitely worth a try. Otherwise, there's not much you can do except perhaps use it as aggregate in your mix for a concrete driveway. Not exactly a bargain, that gravel.

Ann Doesn't Endorse Emma's Solution for Snoring of Mate

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My heart ached for that young bride who had circles under her pretty blue eyes because her snoring groom kept her awake until dawn. I'd like to offer a solution that worked for my Aunt Emma and Uncle Wallace. She thought it up herself.

Aunt Emma read up on snoring and found out that most people snore because their mouths flop open and a piece of loose tissue flutters when the person breathes. She concluded that if she could keep Uncle Wallace's mouth shut the problem would be solved.

So Aunt Emma took strips of muslin and tied Uncle Wallace's mouth shut every evening just before bedtime. They are both gone now but they were happily married for 45 years.

Please print this letter. It could save some marriages. — Westchester

Dear Westy: Strips of muslin only? No embalming fluid? Your uncle must have been a saint to tolerate such treatment.

Sorry, I can't endorse your "solution." Tying a man's mouth shut could lead to problems more serious than snoring. He couldn't say "I love you" or anything.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 22 and have been happily married for three years. My husband will soon be leaving for Vietnam. Recently he asked me if I would marry if something should happen to him. I am a realistic person and I believe in telling the truth. I replied, "Yes, I think I probably would."

He looked shocked at first and then he became angry and shouted, "I couldn't stand the thought of someone else having you — and living off my insurance in the bargain!"

This really hurt me, Ann. It isn't as if I'd be looking for anyone. It's just that since I'm so young and we have no children I don't think I should spend the rest of my life in mourning. Am I wrong to feel this way? Should I have lied to make him feel good? I'd appreciate your opinion. — Honest but Guilty.

Dear H. But G.: Questions that start with "What would you do if—" are best answered this way: "It's impossible to predict what I would do if . . . I'd have to wait and see."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: What has become of front doors?

ing and I'm not a pig who doesn't know enough to wipe my shoes on the doormat before entering a home. Furthermore, I've always been under the impression that side doors and back doors were for tradespeople and servants.

What should a person say to let the host know he resents second-class treatment?—P.Z.D.

Dear P.Z.D.: If you resent being relegated to the side or back door, say so. Sometimes people have no way of knowing that their behavior is offensive until they are told. So tell 'em.

Is alcoholism a disease? How can the alcoholic be treated? Is there a cure? Read the booklet "Alcoholism—Hope and Help," for whom the entrance hall was by Ann Landers. Enclose 35 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Recently I was just about to ring the front bell when the electric doors of the attached garage flew open. "Come in through the garage," a voice ordered. "We just put down new carpeting."

The new Mercedes-Benz 250: so "over-engineered" it won't mush, sway or wallow — even on cloverleaf turns.

This "walled-in" turn at the Mercedes-Benz test track is a brutal test of the suspension. Test drive the remarkable new 250 yourself.

On today's high-speed turnpikes, it's easy to forget how fast you're driving. Mentally, you're "velocitized," as one expert put it. So, sometimes you take the off-ramp at a cloverleaf intersection a little faster than you meant to.

You crank away on the steering wheel, but your car tugs straight ahead like a dog straining at the leash. The tires squeal and your passengers squirm. One of life's embarrassing moments.

What "over-engineering" can mean to you

You probably could have avoided the drama if you'd been driving the new Mercedes-Benz 250. It runs rings around most cars. It out-handles and out-maneuvers them to help you avoid anxious moments.

How does Mercedes-Benz make a 4-door sedan with the agility of a sport car? In the words of one critic, the new 250 is "over-engineered."

He's right. And Mercedes-Benz is proud of it. By conventional standards, the new Mercedes-Benz 250 is "over-engineered." It's built to far more exacting standards than ordinary cars.

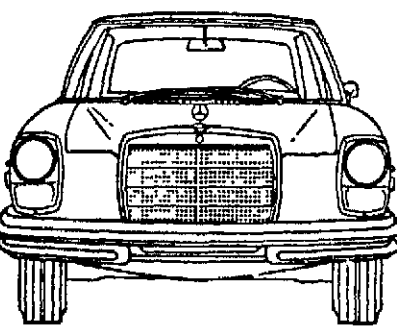

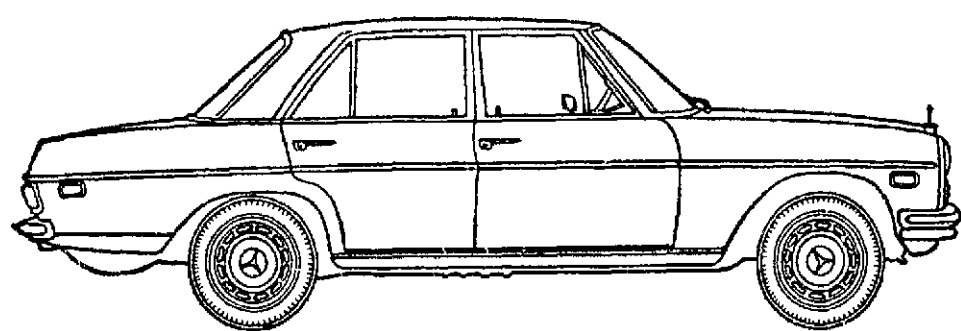

A patented improvement

The 250's suspension system is patented — one of the more than 5,200 basic engineering patents held by Mercedes-Benz. The engineers simply would not tolerate poor roadholding or a jarring ride.

Their ingenious solution: a pair of anti-sway bars — one in front, one at the back. Without these concealed torsion bars to fight body lean, the suspension's springs would have to be so stiff that the ride would be ruined.

With two anti-sway bars (most cars have one), the 250's suspension is soft enough on a washboard road to absorb annoying jolts. And on a tight turn, it's firm enough to prevent mush and wallow.

A suspension that sacrifices neither ride nor handling is a good example of how "over-engineering" works for you. Here are some more examples:

Check this one out: the new Mercedes-Benz 250 is 2 feet shorter than its domestic rivals, yet gives away nothing in interior room.

Many ordinary cars still use old-fashioned drum brakes.

Today's 180-mph Grand Prix racing cars use disc brakes. So does the Mercedes-Benz 250. And not just on the front wheels, but on every wheel. Drum brakes are cheaper, but tests prove that disc brakes provide the most precise braking possible — at any speed. So Mercedes-Benz engineers insist on 4-wheel disc brakes as standard equipment. With 421.1 square inches of braking area, it's virtually impossible to outrun the 250's brakes.

10,000 body welds

Most conventional cars have a separate body and chassis, held together with bolts. After a while, the bolts can work loose. On a washboard road, the rattles can be deafening.

Mercedes-Benz eliminated the body bolts. In their place are over 10,000 individual welds. The result is a structure of immense strength and rigidity. After 50,000 miles or so, you may begin to wonder if your 250 will ever rattle.

Overhead-cam engine

Usually, your car's engine is either tuned for power or economy — not both. By employing a sophisticated overhead-camshaft layout borrowed from Mercedes-Benz World Championship sports/racing cars, the engineers were able to improve the engine's volumetric efficiency (its ability to "breathe"). This remarkable engine gives the 250 a top speed comparable to a standard V-8 with the fuel economy of a Six.

"Fatigue-proof" seats

Take a day-long trip in some cars and you'll wind up feeling like a damp washrag. The Mercedes-Benz 250 is engineered as much for human comfort as it is for mechanical efficiency. Orthopedic physicians were consulted in the design of the 250's seats so you'll have proper support on cross-country tours as well as short hops to the supermarket. When you first slip into one of the 250's carefully contoured seats, it may seem firm, but once you get used to it, you'll never settle for "marshmallow" seats again. Mercedes-Benz engineers have respect for your backbone.

These are just a few of the many advanced engineering features of the Mercedes-Benz 250. Taken together, they add up to one conclusion: at $5,060,* this car is one of the shrewdest investments on wheels.

David Skromme in Car No. 41 is shown nosing out Terry Strutz Sunday afternoon to win the 1968 Appleton Soap Box Derby. As a reward for his successful efforts, he received victory kisses from Christine O'Brien, right, runnerup in the 1968 Miss Appleton contest, and Debby Sypek, left, "Miss Soap Box Derby." The event was co-sponsored by the Appleton Jaycees, Gibson Chevrolet and the WFRV-TV. The man with the microphone is Ed Moore of WFRV-TV. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

David Skromme provided a special 20th wedding anniversary gift to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Skromme, 2004 Welhouse Drive, Kaukauna — when he sped across the finish line in a photo-finish Sunday to take the Fox Cities Soap Box Derby Championship.

Skromme piloted his Badger Northland-ponored car to a split-second win over No. 159 driven by Terry Strutz and sponsored by Zaugs Vending Co.

Skromme received a $500 prize, a chance at $7,500 top money at the international Akron meet and a championship trophy for the Appleton victory.

Photo Timing

This year's timing was done by a photo electric timer built by Jaycee Jerry Kraft. Nick Kraft built an automatic release timer into the ramp so that the cars competing were electronically timed. Polaroid pictures were used to determine winners of especially close races. The derby was sponsored by the Appleton Jaycees, Gibson Chevrolet and Channel 5 TV.

Although the day was overcast when preliminary trials were started, the overcast lifted at 10:30 a.m. to provide near-perfect weather.

Families equipped with lawn chairs, picnics and armed with suntan lotion lined the race track. Anxious fathers paced the trackside and punched stop watches. Many people hurried notes and attempted last-minute coaching as the boys began to allow for minimum air resistance.

Behind-the-scenes pit crews worked nervously to check design, but because of a brake failure he plowed into three parked racers in an early heat. He was worried the crash had their chance to drop from the ramp onto the track and possible victory.

Father and Son

Skromme and his son David sat near their white No. 41 awaiting their next race early in elimination contests. David had won his first race and was happy. He was quietly talking with his dad discussing how to urge extra speed from the torpedo-shaped racer.

"You bend over real far, tuck your shoulders in, and you've got to drive straight," his father said.

David raced his car unsuccessfully last year and started to rework the car in February. He used the same wheels and frame but redesigned the exterior to present "18.9 per cent less surface area" and wind resistance to slow him down.

Driver Larry Valland was worrying over No. 54 sponsored by Team Electronics. One of a few "laydown" models, the drivers lies down full-length to Lucben took first in a jet-propelled, fire extinguisher-powered Fire Department Special.

Over Police Lieut. John Gosch.

And in the powder puff derby, Miss Appleton took first place over Miss Soap Box Derby.

The winners were honored at an evening banquet at Sabre Lanes Champion David Skromme received his trophy, a considerable ground work has been laid. We would like to get together with you people and let's see if we can arrive at some understanding and eliminate this in the future," Gertsch said.

Second place winner Terry Strutz, 2532 Oakwood Court, said third place winner Dan Kieffer, 1327 S. Lave St. and fourth place winner Michael Box, 5511 N. Lyndale Drive, all won trophies and watches.

Gary Malchow, 520 E. Carol St., won a portable television for selling 1,527 Derby buttons.

Plan commissioners agreed and said they welcomed the joint session which will be held within the next 10 days.

At one point, Ald. Al Stoegbauer (4th) said the development division are included in the agreement.

Provides Increase

The agreement provides for a general increase retroactive to the end of the strike could April 29 and a 5 per cent general increase effective May. Several major construction addresses as a Green Bay hotel, 1, 1968, with a minimum of 16 jobs in the Fox Valley and pending, a pre-sentencing investigation in the State Department of Health and Social Services. On June 10, County Judge Nick Rudelt sentenced the car missing Wayne Huebner, an Appleton man who was released from the State Prison Tuesday, this morning pleaded guilty to a charge of "motor vehicle theft" in Appleton.

School Construction Needs Are Outlined

Recommendations Offered By Rasmussen Establish Basis to Program Needs

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Pointing to tremendous pressures on the Appleton tax rate, the city planning department has proposed a list of sweeping recommendations for future public school construction.

The report has been submitted by Planner Walter Rasmussen to the city council's school advisory committee and the Appleton Board of Education.

It points out there is keen competition among all agencies within local government for getting the necessary tax dollars required for their individual programs.

Rasmussen said the purpose of the report, which had an overriding theme of economy, was to establish a common basis for programming for the future needs of the public school system, while keeping overall needs of the city also in mind.

Mutual Understanding

He described the report as not the end, "... But rather the beginning for mutual understanding of each plural body's problems, solutions, goals and ambitions."

Rasmussen indicated that with some give-and-take, the report should result in "a new climate of harmony and cooperation between the city council and school board."

He contended, however, that the measure of school needs is the number of school age children for which the department of planning used several documented forecasts for the future.

While the report dealt with populations, it in part does not necessarily coincide with the school system's reliance on enrollment figures and projections for which there is a difference.

The report touched on enrollments of public and parochial schools, and also dealt with distribution of the school population throughout the school district which includes Appleton.

Plan Agency, Aldermen to Air Problems

Gertsch Requests Talks on Industrial Development Ills

The Appleton Plan Commission and members of the city council's commerce-industry committee will hold a joint meeting soon to discuss "mutual problems" in connection with promoting business and industry.

Ald. Ralph Gertsch (19th), chairman of the council's development group, asked for the meeting when the commission convened to conduct its regular business this morning.

"We have been running into some problems and feel that the planning commission can be of major help so prospects can be assured they will be locating in properly zoned areas," Gertsch told the commission.

Land Use

Ald. Walter Kalata (2nd), committee member, said those interested in underwriting developments here want to know where they can locate and have the appropriate land use available.

"We get working with a prospective industry or firm and the first thing you know there is a zoning problem after a considerable ground work has been laid. We would like to get together with you people and let's see if we can arrive at some understanding and eliminate this in the future," Gertsch said.

Plan commissioners agreed and said they welcomed the joint session which will be held within the next 10 days.

At one point, Ald. Al Stoegbauer (4th) said the development division are included in the agreement.

A Special Event was marked in a special way Sunday as more than 1,500 people attended a St. Joseph Church centennial picnic. Among the appropriate games out of the past was the tug-of-war between the Germans and the Irish, whose friendly rivalry dates back a century. On top, Father George Henseler, OFM Cap., pastor, gives the German side some help, which obviously made the big difference because the Germans won. The rope broke during the second contest. The greased pig race also brought out some quick-stepping people, including Mrs. Walter Lillge, Jr., whose maneuvers delight the audience.

WISCONSIN RAPIDS — A two-year labor contract with the strike of an estimated 1,200 two unions representing 2,800 to 1,500 union carpenters in the Fox Valley and Northeastern Wisconsin may be settled this week.

The prediction came today from an observer close to the dispute between the carpenters and the Fox Valley Contractors Association.

Both sides in the dispute, which began June 3, met with mediators last week and were scheduled to resume talks again today.

In the meantime, spokesmen for the association and union clamped a news blackout on the progress of talks announcing any further statements would be the joint and issued by the media.

It was learned the parties are close on wages and have some disagreement on a fringe item. Once these matters are ironed out, the end of the strike could come within a few days.

No, the Soap Box Derby A Disaster Area?

It was billed as a Soap Box Derby, but for a time — at least for Appleton firemen and policemen — it resembled a disaster area.

Two young derby drivers and one spectator were taken to the hospital and three more persons were treated at the race scene Sunday for injuries ranging from slivers to head cuts.

Among the more seriously injured was Myron Friberg, 18, 1045 Campbell St., Neenah, a derby spectator who struck his head on a racing ramp beam. Appleton firemen, who were at the race scene with the large rescue bus, applied first aid and the youth was taken by squad car to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he received 12 stitches.

Races Despite Injury

Gary Groff, 13, 348 First St., Menasha, had nine stitches in his right leg which was cut when he fell into a wire fence along a hill leading to the ramps. He also was treated at the scene by firemen and was taken to the hospital by squad car.

Groff, driving a car sponsored by Shur-Pine Foods, was able to get back to the W College Avenue "track" and compete in the race following treatment at the hospital although for a time it appeared his older brother would replace him.

Injured in the same mishap was Robert Last, 13, 1421 N. Harriman St., who suffered a head cut and a scraped knee. He was released after treatment at the hospital, although his doctor advised him not to race. He was sponsored by Van's Mobile Homes.

Thomas Van Handel, 11, 1801 N. Douglas St., suffered a hand abrasion when his hand caught between boards while he was helping another youth lift a derby car. Firemen applied a bandage at the scene.

Firemen, who were at the scene the duration of the race, said they removed a sliver from the right hand of Pamela Rettler, whose age and address were not listed, and applied a bandage to the hand of Frank Mueller, a Jaycee worker.

Summer Activities at Lawrence Expected to Attract 2,000 People

About 2,000 people will have used the facilities of Lawrence University this summer during the seven conferences which have been scheduled in addition to the summer sessions for students.

The first of the conferences, which drew more than 500 pastors and delegates from 300 United Church of Christ (UCC) congregations in the state, ended Friday.

Besides the business meetings, budget hearings and addresses, a church music workshop also was conducted, primarily for organists and choir directors.

Today, as the Lawrence summer sessions opens, 90 young members of the Luther League arrived for a leadership conference of "Encounter with the Arts," concerned with such mass-communication and how it concerns Christians.

The young people, from Wisconsin and Upper Peninsula, also will take part in a "happening" which will be provided by a group from Milwaukee, known as the "Underground Life." The Rev. Ellis Waggoner is conference leader.

On Wednesday the regional festival of the American Guild of English Handbell Ringers opens. About 200 members of handbell choirs from seven states are expected to attend the festival, according to Mrs. LaVahn Maesch, festival chairman.

An organ recital will be given for the group by Paul Emmons, Appleton, Wednesday in the Lawrence Chapel, after which Mrs. Maesch and her group of bellringers will have a social hour for them in the Memorial Union.

Opinion for Appleton Cities Can't Establish Development Agencies

A city cannot establish a municipal industrial development commission and operate similar to the provisions of a law covering counties, an Appleton alderman has been notified.

Ald. Walter Kalata (2nd), a secretary of the city council's commerce-industry development committee, had written to the Wisconsin League of Municipalities for a legal opinion.

In his reply, Attorney Jerry A. Edgar, League legal counsel, explained the law.

"Wisconsin Statutes do not provide for a city industrial commission," Edgar wrote.

However, there is one on the books which allows county government to have such a group.

County Commission

One was formed in Outagamie County two years ago and helped locate Wisconsin Wire Works Co. in the Town of Greenville where a future county industrial park is planned near the new airport.

Edgar also noted that Kalata requested information as to what extent a city may get involved in the area of industrial development, using bonding procedures, etc.

He said that cities could help develop industrial parks but could give no tax freeze or any other special consideration to a private corporation. The League counsel also indicated the city could not donate any land to anyone.

Fair Value

He emphasized that any land sold must be at fair market value and have other possible considerations, such as providing more jobs or adding to the city's tax base.

Edgar informed Kalata he was merely citing opinions and court cases, declaring, "I must point out that requests for legal opinions should be properly submitted by the City attorney or by resolution of the common council."

The council's commerce-development committee is exploring all avenues in hopes of getting more new industries interested in locating in Appleton.

Lawrence Chapel under the direction of Richard Littert, president of the guild, is set for Friday.

Auxiliary Convention

July 18-21 the campus will house a group of about 400 women, members of the American Legion Auxiliary, who will be here in connection with the state convention of the American Legion.

The Methodist Church Music Institute of the north-central jurisdiction will be July 21-26. About 150 pastors, ministers of music, organists, choir directors and other interested persons will gather for seminars on a number of subjects, including the use of unusual instruments such as the autoharp, handbells, and harpsichord in the church.

Also offered will be seminars on the hymnal, organ resources and methods, choral techniques, the liturgy, and anthem-reading.

The faculty will include Dr. Cecil Lapo, author and composer, and nation-wide director of the ministry of music of the board of education of the Methodist Church.

Urban Crisis

The American Lutheran Church will hold a leadership training school for young people from its Wisconsin churches on the Lawrence campus Aug. 5-10.

About 120 young people, with counselors and pastors, will hold discussions on the social problems of our time, especially the racial crisis, as these are related to the Gospel.

The sessions are intended "to provide an intense exposure to the crises of our time," according to the Rev. Jonathan L. Sacks of Aniwa, leader of the conference, and "to stimulate Christian leadership in the local congregation."

The Methodist Pastors' School of the United Methodist Church will be in residence on the campus from Aug. 19-22. Classes, to be held at the First Methodist Church of Appleton, will feature contemporary theological ideas, and will be offered by the staff of the Ecumenical Institute of Chicago, an orthodox school headed by Joe Matthews.

Walkout Strikes Sawyer Paper

NEENAH — Sawyer Paper Company was struck this morning by four employees of Teamsters Union Local 563 of Appleton in a long-running dispute over terms of a new contract.

The firm, located at 344 Smith St., is a jobber in paper specialties.

The striking Teamsters are drivers and warehouse workers. Mediation fails Past mediation failed to get the company and union negotiators together on a new contract covering wages, hours and working conditions.

The former contract expired several months ago. Pickets were stationed at the firm today by the Teamsters.

It represents the seventh strike in the Fox Cities in recent months.

a good share of Grand Chute and parts of the Towns of Buchanan, Harrison and Menasha.

The report took the existing and future population projections and converted them into room requirements.

Rasmussen said it was also optimistic to forecast that the parochial shift to public schools may remain constant.

He also thought the pessimistic forecast could be that the parochia system will undergo a transition from the present nearly complete (1-12) grade system to probably a single unit such as a high school.

He cited that a detailed study of the parochial school situation by the Fox Valley Council of Governments concluded recently that the parochial system would continue to operate at its present enrollments, and the latter would represent a continuing smaller percentage of the total student population.

Classroom Needs

Evaluating the needs on the basis of population forecast and continuing of existing parochial facilities, the report said public school system needs for 1970 will be: elementary, 17 additional classrooms; junior high, 14 classrooms exclusive of the Madison Junior High addition going up; and senior high, none.

Further projected school needs are:

1980 — Elementary, 76 classrooms; junior high, 28; senior, 36.

1985 — Elementary, 84 classrooms; junior high, 32; senior, 16.

Rasmussen emphasized the classroom requirements were based on a 25 students-per-room ratio.

Change Policy

He also alluded later in the report to the fact the school board may have to revise its philosophy on higher price construction, or change its teacher station (number students per teacher) policy.

"Several major points should be set forth," Rasmussen said, continuing:

"There is nothing in sight to indicate that we can hope for

Seminarians Fund Is Voted by Foresters

Resolutions dealing with special funds and social programs were passed and delegates to the national convention selected by the more than 200 persons attending the 27th annual state convention of the Wisconsin Court of the Catholic Order of Foresters in Appleton this weekend.

Highlighting the list of resolutions was the yearly donation of $1,000 for each diocese in the state, which will help educate seminarians. Titled the Bishops' Fund for Seminarians, the allocation will be administered by a chosen committee in each diocese. This committee will establish qualifications.

The group also resolved to present a program of social membership for those 25 years of age or older at the International Convention in August in Boston.

Praise President

Among the general resolutions was one to praise the President and the federal government for the national treaty to stop the use of nuclear power and for its attempts to establish peace.

Remembered during a short period of silence were four men who had been involved in the operations of the Order. The list included Leo Lowmik, who died shortly after his election as chief state ranger; John A. Creviere, DePere, who served as state secretary of the order for many years;

The Most Rev. Stanislaus Prior to that time he worked for Bona, bishop of Green Bay, and Judge George H. Crowns, chairman of the board of the high court.

Another Look

"We should definitely take another look at the Langedyke property use," Stoegbauer said. In other action, the commission:

—Recommended approval of rezoning from single to duplex and multiple family district, nine lots in the Harrison Park subdivision. Ald. James Bethke (9th) and other ward residents spoke against it.

Antique Autos Will Parade In Appleton, be Exhibited

The streets of Appleton will come alive Friday with a procession of automobiles from the past — all in mint condition.

Seventy-five to 80 antique cars, testifying to America's great love affair with the automobile, valued collectively at $1 million, are scheduled to arrive here between 2 and 4 p.m.

Behind the wheels of these treasured vehicles will be members of the Wisconsin region of the Antique Automobile Club of America. Riding with them will be their families and friends — an assemblage of more than 200.

For six days and more than 600 miles, their vintage sounds will be heard in state communities and back roads.

Long Ride

The long ride, which started late this morning from Mayfair Shopping Center, Milwaukee, traces a motoring event, which began in Wisconsin in 1910.

The Milwaukee Sentinel annually has awarded trophies to those from 1913 through 1920, and the antique enthusiasts in numerous others from 1921-30.

The year's test will be of endurance rather than speed.

On Display

The American Automobile Association is providing the official road routings for all participants and also sending a "courtesy patrol" tow truck to convoy the vintage autos.

All of the antique cars will be displayed Friday at Russ Darrow Chrysler-Plymouth agency, 2801 W. College Ave.

Darrow said today his used car lot will be completely cleared to make room for the huge display. The old cars will be shown from about 3:30 to 6:30 p.m.

An auto driven by Edward F. Ziel, 40, 713 Paris St., Menasha, and a car driven by Robert J. Zeegers, 46, 1881 Beck St., Neenah, were both eastbound on Columbian attempting to make a left turn onto Commercial when they collided, according to police.

Ziel's vehicle was in the straight-ahead-only lane and Zeegers was making a left out of the left-only-turn lane on Columbian, police said.

Or be Disgrace of AL
Stanky Says Tigers
Are Running Scared,
But Should Win Big

By JOE MOOSHIL
CHICAGO (AP) — This may be the year of the horse according to the Chinese calendar, but as far as the American League baseball scene is concerned it's the year of the Tiger.

Detroit Manager Mayo Smith agrees with a "let's hope so," and Chicago White Sox Manager Eddie Stanky says "it better be the year of the tigers or they'll be the disgrace of the league."

According to Stanky, the Tigers, off and running, "better win it big or they won't be at all."

Still burning from a sloppy five-run uprising by the Tigers, which gave Detroit a 6-1 victory and a split of a doubleheader Sunday after the Sox had taken the opener 3-2 on a tie-breaking homer by Tommy Davis, Stanky kept sticking barbs into the Tigers.

"I said last year they should have won by 10 games," said Stanky. "If they don't do it big they won't do it. Why do I think so? I'll tell you when they win it or lose it. They know why."

Banting for Hits

Prodded a little more, Stanky added: "They're running scared and it's only June. Guys like Willie Horton, Bill Freehan and Norm Cash bunting for base hits? If that isn't an indication of what I mean then I can't tell you any more."

Losing 1-0 and held to one hit in seven innings by Cisco Carrlos, the Tigers were facing their first doubleheader loss of the season.

Then Tom Whitbeck singled, Don Wert was hit by a pitch and Carlos messed up a double play ball hit by Wayne Comer to load the bases.

Chicago batter Willie Horton checked his swing on a Hoyt Wilhelm offering and the ball dribbled to the left of the mound. Wilhelm slipped, nobody covered first. Horton reached it, and the game was tied. A walk to Dick McAuliffe tied the winning run.

Jim Northrup's ground ball shot past first for a two-run double and Cash dribbed a run-scoring single past the mound.

"Funny thing," said Smith, "even if we had lost two, we weren't in trouble. Cleveland had lost and Baltimore had lost the first game of a doubleheader."

"The year of the Tiger?" asked Smith. "Why not, let 'er rip. I'm for it."

Smith praised Dennis McLain, who boosted his record to 11-2 with only two days rest.

"He's one helluva pitcher this year," said Smith. "He's got pitches now he didn't have two years ago. He's concentrating and his control is great."

Athletic Department Feeling
Fiscal Pinch at Wisconsin

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The fiscal pinch of the University of Wisconsin athletic department has hit the personnel payroll of the staff.

Raises were awarded faculty members by the UW's Board of Regents last week, but staff members of the department of intercollegiate athletics were passed over unless they also held an appointment to another department.

In that case, minimal merit increases were awarded by the board.

The department has fallen on fiscally hard times, as gate receipts — traditional backbone of the department's budget — have fallen off in a time of rising prices and losing teams in the prominent sports fields.

The UW administration has agreed to transfer some regular departmental costs to the main UW budget, in return for increased budgetary control over the formerly self-financed department.

The hold-the-line attitude on staff salaries is one of the first effects of the change.

Salary increases were granted 12 of the 33 department members, and ranged from $50 to $4,500. The latter raise was granted John D. Powless when he was appointed head basketball coach at the school. Powless had been assistant basketball coach and tennis coach.

The other major salary adjustment was handed Randall Jablonic, who has been appointed crew coach, from the position of assistant crew coach.

Salary increases include:

John C. Hickman, swimming coach, student personnel services director, and physical education, up $50 to $13,400; Arthur W. Mansfield, baseball coach and physical education, up $600 to $16,300; Fred A. Wegner, assistant baseball coach and director of recreation facilities, up $900 to $17,600.

George Martin, wrestling coach and physical education, up $90 to $12,590; Thomas C. Bennett, assistant track coach and physical education, up $180 to $13,320; George V. Bauer, gymnastics coach and physical education, up $320 to $12,320.

Gerald E. Darda, assistant swimming coach and physical education up $68 to $9,318; Jablonic, $10,000; Roger L. Johnson, head trainer and physical education, up $150 to $11,700; Joseph O'Toole, assistant trainer and physical education, up $125 to $8,125; and Powless, $15,000.

Use Easily Made Bookmarks
For Your Summer Reading

BY CAPPY DICK
A bookmark is handy to own. Today's fun-girl shows a method of making one that is so easy you will want to make one for each member of your family as well as for each of your best friends.

Figure 1 shows the pattern, the dotted lines indicating where to cut with scissors. As the pattern appears in the illustration it is too small, of course, and you should make it bigger. The bookmark should be about five inches long and two inches wide at its greatest width.

Use construction paper, drawing paper or any other heavy paper. On it draw the outline, then carefully do the cutting.

The tab at the wide end of the bookmark is to be slipped beneath the top edge of the page where you want to mark your place in the book (Figure 3).

To give the bookmark a personal touch, print your name on the tab. If it is to be a gift for a relative or friend, print that person's name on the tab instead of your own name.

The Macs, who now have an 8-1 record, play at Clintonville Wednesday night.

Golf's Happy Fella

'I'll Buy Alamo,' Quips Lee Trevino

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Lee Trevino is golf's most happy fella, a wise-cracking, fast-talking bundle of brashness who could double as a carnival pitchman.

He reeled off story after story Sunday following his victory in the U.S. Open, admitted he was "a little choked up, a little nervous," but refused to take himself seriously.

"Now I've won the U.S. Open I'm eligible for the World Series of Golf. But they'll probably cancel it," he joked. "That's like a guy owns a pumpkin farm and they do away with halloween."

But he had his serious moments, too.

"Show me a guy who won the U.S. Open and isn't happy."

He gave a great deal of credit for his success to his caddy, 13-year-old Kevin Quinn. The boy's father was in the audience, and was pointed out to Trevino.

Trevino pointed a finger at the man and laughed: "He's just waiting for the check."

$30,000 Top Prize

But the Mexican-American, a native of Dallas but now living in the border town of El Paso, Tex., said he had other plans for the $30,000 first prize money.

"I'm going to buy the Alamo and give it back to Mexico."

Had he called his wife?

"Naw, she saw me on TV. She knows how I feel. Besides, she's probably crying."

His wife, Trevino explained, gets all his prize winnings and controls the family purse strings.

When does she expect the check?

"Wednesday. If she doesn't get it Wednesday, she'll be calling me. And it won't be very funny."

How much will she let him keep?

"Three hundred, maybe."

Then the questioning turned to his family.

"I have a little girl, three," he said. "And I have a boy, six, by my first wife. I've been married twice."

"I get rid of them when they turn 21."

"I'm just joking. Don't put that down. Just kidding."

How old is his present wife, Claudia?

"Twenty-one, and she'd better watch her step."

Future plans?

"I'm committed to several tournaments in this country, and I'll be playing in Canada next week. Now that I've won this one, I may play in the British Open. That's a big, prestige tournament."

"After that? Well, I just want to keep on playing golf as well as I can and as long as I can. I'll have some bad rounds, but I've had bad rounds before."

"I'm going to be playing this game when I'm 100 years old."

Back to finances.

He was a $30 a week assistant pro at Horizon Hills Country Club a year ago. Now he owns one third of the club.

"I told my club, that if I win this tournament, I'm going to fire him."

Why?

"No reason. Just something to say. Just kidding."

He won two Texas State Open championships, but was one of the most unknown players in the field when he made his pro debut in the 1967 Open.

"I finished fifth and won $6,900. That started it. I went home for about a month and didn't expect to play on the tour until '68. But my wife convinced me to give it a try."

"She and the baby came with me for a couple to tournaments owner, and I was winning like $200. I wasn't practicing enough. I felt the track's history, sat in 95-degree weather during the five up in a motel."

"So finally, I said, 'Why don't you go home and let me get the some practice? So she did."

"The next tournament I won about $4,000. Then I won $6,000. Then I won $8,100."

"And man, I looked around and said, 'How long has this been going on?'"

He has won about $120,000 in the year since the 1967 Open.

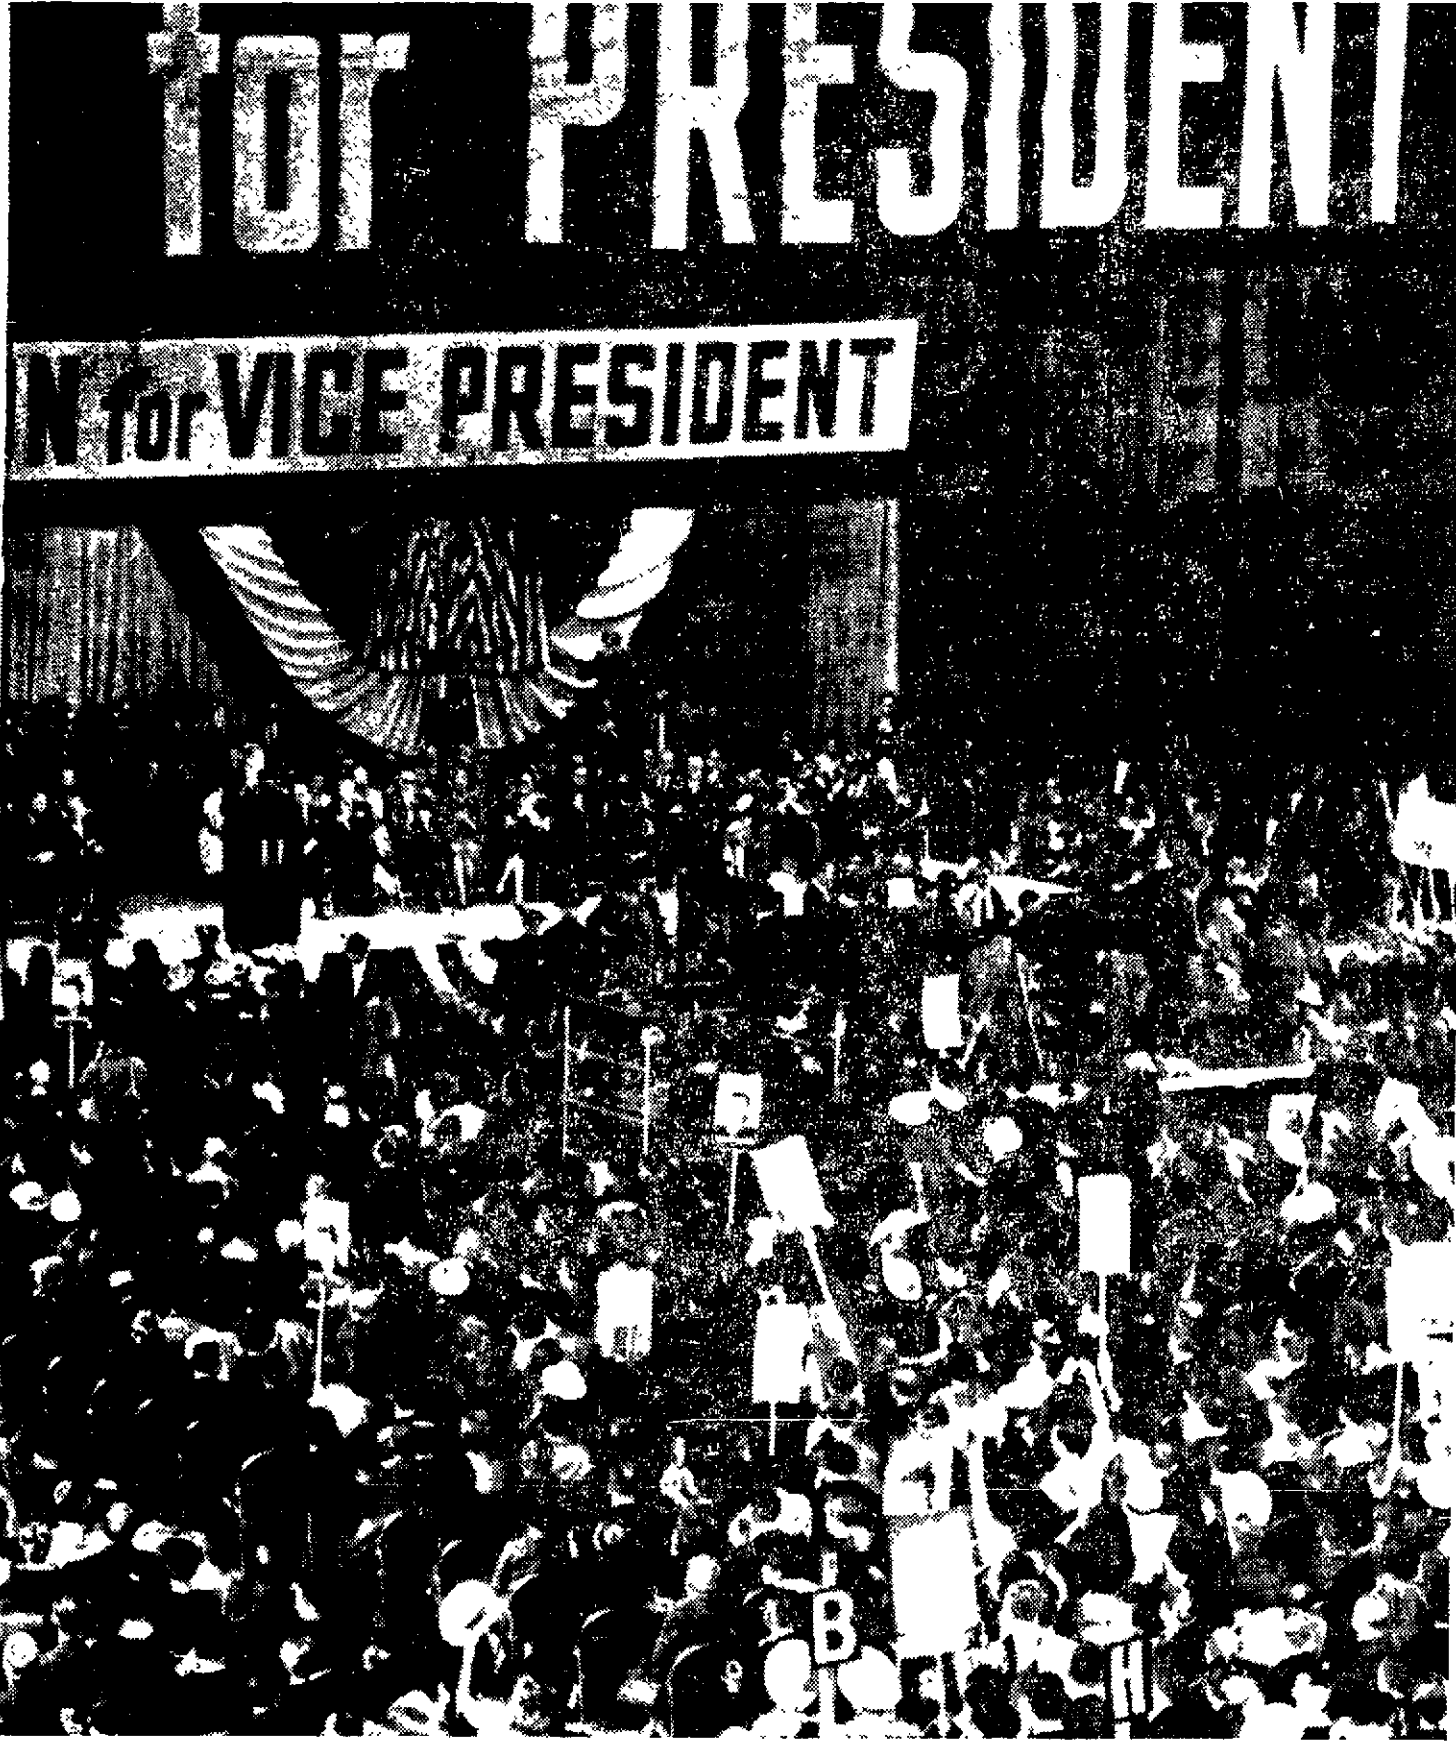

Allison Boys
Carolina 500

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (AP) — The Allison boys drove side-by-side through North Carolina Motor Speedway's tricky turns with only laps to go Sunday and gave each other the "A-OK" sign.

Donnie Allison went on to win the Carolina 500-mile stock car race in a factory-backed Ford, his first Grand National victory. Older brother Bobby Allison, driving an independently financed Chevelle, finished second, although about two miles behind at the finish.

The brothers, who live about a mile apart in Hueytown, Ala., took home $25,325 of the race's $78,230 purse. Donnie won $15,775, which he'll have to split with his car owner and crew; Bobby will bank all of his winnings because he's his own car owner.

A crowd of 50,000, largest in the track's history, sat in 95-degree weather during the five hours and two minutes it took to negotiate the 500 miles.

Next to New York and California, we'll have the largest delegation at either of the conventions.

More than 150 faces in that crowd will be ours. Does that sound like a lot of people on one story for just one newspaper? It is. But there's a good reason for it. We're a member of The Associated Press. That means we'll have men and women to cover every single detail of the Republican convention in Miami Beach and the Democratic convention in Chicago.

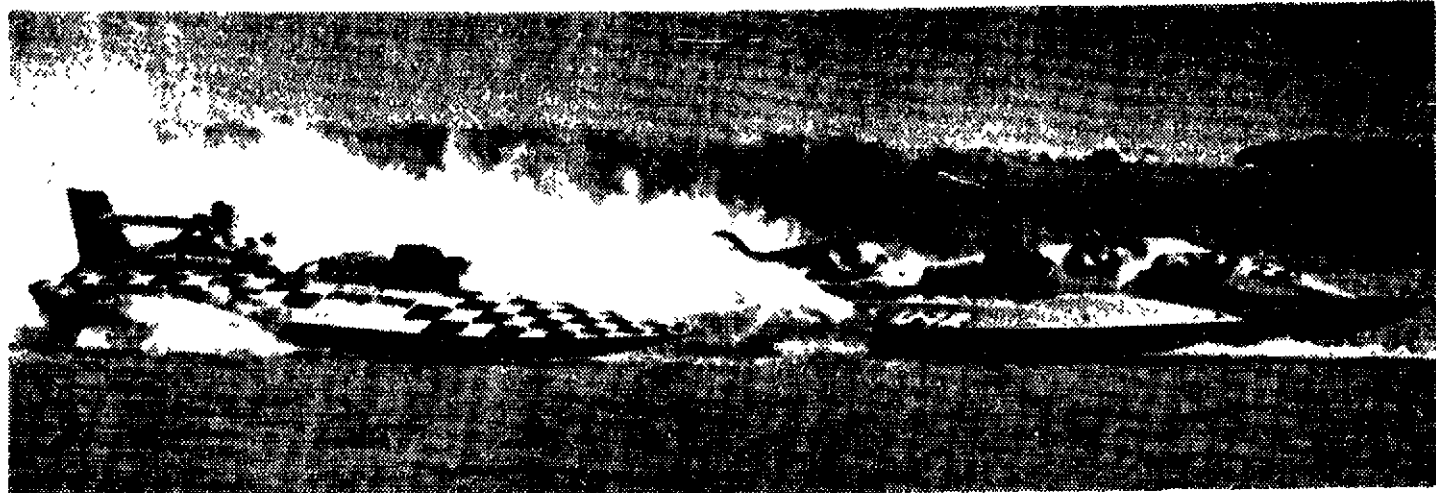

Every minute, our AP staff of seasoned political news editors and reporters will be on the scene. Special convention news desks will be set up to work around the clock, ready to transmit convention happenings the moment they take place. Experienced photo editors, photographers and darkroom technicians will operate from strategic photo workrooms, ready to send headline pictures through AP's vast transcontinental Wire-photo network.

CHICAGO (AP) — Willie Davis, All-Pro defensive end of the Green Bay Packers, was named Sunday winner of the National Football League's top award for contributions to his team, league and community.

80th Career Win For Dominant Figure In Women's Golf

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Mickey Wright of Dallas has cut down her tournament play, but she is still the one to beat in women's golf.

The 33-year-old Miss Wright captured the $15,000 Speedway Open Sunday—her 80th tournament triumph and her fourth in just six outings with the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour this season. She shot a four-under-par 68 and finished with a 54-hole total of 212.

She now ranks the favorite in the LPGA Championship opening Thursday at Sutton, Mass.

Carol Mann, the 6-foot-3 New Yorker who also has won four 1968 tournaments and is the LPGA's leading money winner, was forced to withdraw before the final round of the Speedway tourney when back spasms prevented her from turning her neck.

It was not known if Miss Mann would be able to play at Sutton.

Minneapolis' Hansen Wins 120-Miler

By KEN HARTNETT

ELKHART LAKE, Wis. (AP) — Stockbroker Jerry Hansen turned bullish at the drop of the green flag and did what he's been threatening to do for years. He won the June Sprints auto race.

Hansen, 30, of Minneapolis, Minn., frustrated by mechanical troubles for the past three Junes here, piloted his pole-sitting Lola-Chevy into a substantial lead at the start Sunday.

He went on to win by 58 seconds in the 120-mile feature race at Road America.

A distant second in the Sports Car Club of America amateur show was Ron Courtney of Chicago. Third was Leonard Jenke of Pender, Neb. Both drove McLaren-Chevys.

"I like to compete," said the clear-eyed Hansen after his win, which took only 1:14:32.2. He averaged 96.597 miles per hour. Hansen owned the pole position in each of the last three June Sprints, but, Hansen said, "something always happened."

Finishes 4 Shots Ahead Of Nicklaus

By BOB GREEN

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — He's a joker, a quipster, a wise-cracking comedian, but there could be the stamp of golfing greatness on laughing Lee Trevino.

He came up the hard way, from caddie and boot black. He's victory-hungry and tough-minded as the marine he once was.

And, at 28 the brand new U.S. Open golf champion is going to be around a long time.

He proved in a single year he could play with the world's best professionals. And now he's shown that he can beat the best — and beat them in record-shattering fashion.

Sunday's triumph was his first professional tournament victory. But you can bet the rent money it won't be his last.

"I'm going to keep on playing as well as I can, and as long as I can," he said. "Sure, I'm going to play some bad rounds. I've played bad rounds before. But I'll keep playing. I'll be playing this game when I'm 100 years old."

Matches Lowest Card

His 275 winning total matched the lowest score ever shot in the open, set last year by Jack Nicklaus. And his four sub-par rounds on the 6,962-yard Oak Hill Country Club course set a record in this most prestigious and demanding of all the world's golf tournaments.

He had rounds of 69, 68, 69, 69—four consecutive under par, and never matched by all the greats who have played the Open. No one before had ever done it.

But still Trevino wasn't satisfied.

"I came up 18 looking for a birdie," he said. "I wanted all the records. A birdie would have broken Nicklaus' scoring mark."

He didn't get it. In fact, he had to scramble to salvage par. "Let go for a birdie here," his

Cedar Rapids Hands Foxes 9-2 Setback

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia. — The Appleton Foxes' pitching corps was battered for the second day in succession as Cedar Rapids pounded out 15 hits in a 9-2 victory here Sunday.

The 15 hits represents the third highest total for an opponent this year following on the heels of the highest total — 20 by Dubuque Saturday night.

The loss was the Foxes' 10th in the last 12 games and fourth in five contests with the Cardinals this year. Cedar Rapids, in a virtual tie for first place in the Midwest League, has now captured eight of its last 10 games.

Southpaw Jesse DuBose became the third opposing pitcher in a row to go the distance against the Foxes as he gave up nine hits. DuBose is 4-2 for the season and half of his decisions have been against the Foxes. After losing to Steve Kokor on a shutout early in the season, he has now stopped Appleton twice.

The Foxes drew first blood in the game, both run-wise and player-wise, both produced by the same person. Curt Fontenot doubled in Hal Caldwell in the first after the latter had singled Severson's single.

Lofts Fly Ball

In the bottom of the inning Bobby Diaz lofted a fly ball into left center. Fontenot and Felix Figueroa converged on the ball and collided. Fontenot, still conscious, was taken off the field in an ambulance and eight stitches were put in above his left eye. He is not expected to miss much action.

The Appleton Foxes begin their next home stand Tuesday night.

Burlington opens a 3-game series at Goodland Field at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow. Cedar Rapids comes in Friday and Saturday nights to wind up the home stay.

"Dairy Night" will be observed Tuesday. The 4-H clubs of Outagamie and Winnebago Counties have distributed tickets for the event. The tickets, which call for a 25-cent service charge, are also available at Appleton banks, at the court house and at Station WHBY. A 40-piece 4-H band will provide entertainment. Free samples of cheese from Outagamie producers will be distributed at the gates to the first 2,000 fans. Crackers will be furnished by the Nabisco Co., Green Bay. The first 500 persons will also receive ice cream from Morning Glory.

Ken Frailling will pitch Tuesday's game for the Foxes. Special guests will be the Pack 14 Cub Scouts of the Congregational church, Neenah-Menasha, and patients of Winnebago and Outagamie County Hospitals.

"Youth Baseball Night" is set for Thursday. Members of boys baseball leagues in Appleton have been selling tickets. The special incentive is an expense-free trip to Chicago, for a White Sox game, to the top 20 salesmen. The Appleton East pep band will provide the music. A number of baseball equipment prizes will be awarded to fans.

Neenah Little Leagues will be the Foxes' guests for Friday night's game.

The Midwest League will hold its quarterly meeting in Appleton's Conway Hotel at 10 a.m. Sunday. A tour of the new Goodland Field facilities is also on the agenda.

Orioles Beaten Twice

Tigers Hike Lead With Split

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

Horace Clarke staggered Rick Clark to get the New York Yankees off the ropes, but it took a super stroke by Clark Kent to get them off the hook.

California's Clark had the Yankees down 1-0 Sunday until Clarke ripped a two-run eighth inning homer and Mickey Mantle unloaded another two-run blast off reliever Clyde Wright.

The Angels, however, rallied New York clubhouse, fired a strike to the plate, easily nailing Morton for the final out.

Climb to Seventh

The Yankees' third straight victory left them in seventh place in the American League —one game behind Oakland's surprising Athletics, who swept a doubleheader from second place Baltimore 4-2 and 6-4. The Orioles slipped 7½ games behind Detroit's league leaders, who split a twin bill with Chicago, winning the nightcap 6-1 after a 3-2 first game loss.

Boston downed Cleveland 5-3 and Minnesota defeated Washington 4-2 in other single games.

Joe Torre's Double Enables Atlanta to Edge Cubs in 11th

By HAL BOCK

Herman Franks thought he'd put one over on Gil Hodges and Atlanta was afraid Joe Torre had bounced one over on the Chicago Cubs.

Franks had his lefty-righty strategy cross up in the second game as Hodges' New York Mets nipped the San Francisco Giants 3-1 for a split of their Sunday doubleheader. Ray Saadecki's five-hitter had given the Giants a 4-1 first game victory.

Torre's long double scored Hank Aaron from first base with the only run of Atlanta's 1-0 11-inning victory over Chicago but only after it came dangerously close to bouncing over the wall for a ground rule two-bagger that would have left Aaron at third.

Pirates Sweep

In other National League games, Pittsburgh swept a doubleheader from Houston 3-1 and 1-2. St. Louis trimmed Cincinnati 4-2 and Los Angeles spoiled Bob Skinner's managerial debut by tripping Philadelphia 2-1.

Franks started left-hander Bill Henry in the second game and pulled a quick switch to righty Bob Bolin in the first inning after Hodges had inserted some right-handed strength in his starting line-up.

Bolin came on to face right-handed batter Cleon Jones with Don Bosch on first base and one out. Jones crossed up the strategy with an RBI double and then scored another run on a pair of wild pitches. Art Shamsky later homered for New York's final run.

In the opener, the Giants tagged Dick Selma with his first loss after six victories as Willie Jays and Jack Hiatt hammered some runs. Mays' leadoff shot in the sixth inning snapped a coreless tie.

Torre, who suffered a broken jaw when hit by a pitch by Chuck Hartenstein early in the season, paid the Chicago reliever back a bit with his game-winning double.

Aaron had walked and was

After getting up four hits in his first inning, DuBose settled down and retired 17 of the next 18 men with the aid of two Cedar Rapids doubleplays.

De Vincenzo Outscores Goalby In Final Round of 'Open'

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — It's said that winning the Masters Golf Championship is worth $1 million but the 1968 champion says, "I don't want to be a millionaire."

"Sure, I want to win money," Bob Goalby said. "That's one reason I play in a lot of tournaments. But money isn't everything, a man has obligations to his family."

Goalby, playing behind Roberto De Vincenzo, fired a 66 at Augusta to tie the Argentine for first place. De Vincenzo, meanwhile, was signing an erroneous scorecard that dropped him to second place.

"I never got credit for that 66," Goalby said. "They think I backed into the title. I didn't. They say De Vincenzo blew the title."

caddy, Kevin Quinn, told him. "Let it all out."

He did, but hooked his tee shot into the left rough.

"It was a bad lie," Trevino said. "Usually, I'd use a wedge back to the fairway. But I didn't want to be remembered as the Open champion who wedged in. So I took a six-iron and tried to reach the green."

But he only moved it further down the rough.

"Then I got the wedge, went for the green and got it about four feet from the pin. And I made the putt."

Southern Cal Nips SIU for Series Crown

2-Out, 2-Strike, 2-Run Triple in Ninth Gains 4-3 Win

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — "This USC team has never been excellent in desire and willingness to pay the price," said Rod Dedeaux, wily 63-year-old coach of Southern California's NCAA baseball champions.

"I've never seen anything like it the way they kept coming in a back," Dedeaux said. "Two out and two strikes in the last of the ninth here, the same thing in the district championship game, and three other teams had us down here, but these guys won."

USC specialized in winning cliff-hangers, it's true, and the 4-3 victory over Southern Illinois Saturday night was the most dramatic. It was USC's fifth College World Series crown.

Pat Kuehner, a senior outfielder drafted by Washington, was the hero of the title game. He ripped a 375-foot, two-run pinch triple off the fence in right center with two out and two strikes on him, after going hitless in 14 previous Series trips.

Brent Strom, sophomore lefty, came in with SIU ahead 3-2, the bases loaded, two out and three balls on the batter in the eighth. He got the out and gained his second Series victory in relief.

Trickle Sets Record at KK

Captures 40-Lap Feature Event on Half Mile Course

Dick Trickle of Wisconsin Rapids, running a '67 427 Ford Fairlane, continued his winning ways, for the second time in as many weeks, set another track record and copped the 40-lap half-mile feature event Saturday night at the KK Sports Arena.

Trickle roared around the half-mile oval in record times of :22:02 and :22:76 seconds, to become the first driver ever to time less than 23 seconds on the high banked track.

After starting in the rear (inverted start) in the feature race, Trickle worked his way into the No. 1 spot on the 21st lap, taking over the lead from Menasha's George Giesen after a 5-lap see-saw battle for the top position.

The caution flag was dropped on one occasion for two laps, (28-29th) when Bob "hard-luck" Kempen of Hilbert, lost a wheel coming out of No. 2 turn and spun cross-ways in the track. Earlier in time trials, Kempen hit the wall for the second time this year, again in the No. 2 turn.

Following Trickle to victory was Giesen in a '65 Plymouth, Ken Pankratz of Mosinee in a '64 Ford, Jerry Smith of Medina in a '61 Ford (first night on the 1/2-mile), Bill Nelson '67 426 Hemi Plymouth of Minneapolis, and Stu Nitzke of Berlin in a '62 Ford.

Clyde Schumacher of Kimberly led the feature for 11 laps, Giesen 10 and Trickle the remaining 19.

The trophy dash for the six fastest cars of the night was won by Giesen, with Trickle second and Nelson third.

The first 10-lap heat of the night was won by Rich Sommers of Stevens Point in a '64 427 Mercury, Pankratz second, Bob Dalsky of Wausau in a '65 Ford third and Nitzke fourth.

The second heat was also won by Giesen, with Trickle second, Nelson third and Schumacher in a '67 Ford fourth.

BABA Entry Wins, 10-9

LITTLE CHUTE — Don Knuth capped a 5-run third inning with a 3-run homer in leading Clintonville to a 10-9 triumph over Little Chute here Sunday.

The BABA entry had tallied all of its runs by the sixth inning and held off several Little Chute rallies to gain the win. It was the second loss in two days for the Chuters, who dropped a 4-0 decision to American Bank in Madison Saturday, and evened their season mark at 2-2.

Trailing, 10-4, Little Chute tallied twice in the sixth and closed the gap to one with three in the seventh. In the eighth the hosts loaded the bases with one out. Winning hurler Ken Bohman then got the win. It was the second out on a short fly and struck out Hank Peerenboom who already had three hits. In the ninth, the Chuters had a runner on base again but stranded him.

Bohman went the distance for Clintonville. He was nicked for 13 hits, walked eight and struck out 17.

Terry Holding started for Little Chute but was relieved by Bob Manthey in the fourth. The two gave up 15 hits, walked three and fanned five.

Besides his homer Knuth also had a run-producing triple. Don Jirschele and Dick Bennett also clouted triples for the winners, while Al Koeppen had three hits including a double.

Jim VandeWettering paced Little Chute with two triples and a single to drive in three runs. Hank Peerenboom had three hits including a triple and Floyd Hammen had a double.

ond in the final standings with 900 points. Bardahl finished with 1,200. Third went to My Gypsy, 869 and fourth was Notre Dame, 850.

Schumacher's victory was his first this season. He wound up fourth in the opening unlimited race two weeks ago at Gunter'sville, Ala. He won six of eight races last year.

One of the most exciting runs of the day was heat 2-A, won by Munsey. Notre Dame spun out twice on the second lap, but driver Jack Regas kept control and still managed to finish in third place, behind Savair's Probe.

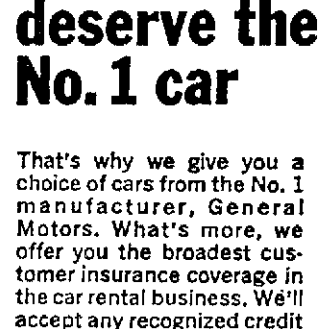

A crowd estimated at 30,000 paid to see the race and an estimated 50,000 more lined apartment rooftops and terraces along Lake Monona.

Miss Bardahl Cops Wisconsin's First Race for Hydroplanes

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A blown engine and two penalty laps made it easy as Miss Bardahl, driven by Billy Schumacher of Seattle, Wash., ran away with the first Wisconsin Cup race for unlimited hydroplanes Sunday.

Schumacher and Bill Munsey, who piloted the fastest qualifier, Miss U.S., to a pair of preliminary heat victories, were paired in the final race, but Munsey blew his engine on the second 2.5 mile lap.

Two other boats, Notre Dame and My Gypsy, jumped the gun on the final heat and had to run an extra lap. That made it a two-boat race, with Bardahl pitted against Savair's Probe. Bardahl was ahead all the way.

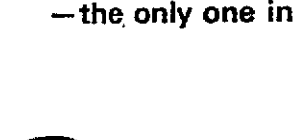

Takes Second

Savair's Probe also was second in the final standings with 900 points. Bardahl finished with 1,200. Third went to My Gypsy, 869 and fourth was Notre Dame, 850.

Fontanini Breaks KK Drag Strip Record

KAUKAUNA — Al Fontanini set a new track record as he piloted his "Swinger 1" to victory in the Summer Funny Car Championships at the KK Sports Arena Sunday afternoon before an estimated crowd of 2,100.

Fontanini, a native of Highwood, Ill., pushed his nitro-fueled Hemi Dodge Charger to a time of 8.01 seconds that eclipsed the old mark of 8.06. Fontanini had also set that record on May 5 of this year. The car's top speed was 173.07 miles per hour, not a record.

Jim Kirby, Festus, Mo., took runner-up honors with a time of 8.48 seconds and 166.66 miles per hour. He drove a 1968 Camaro.

Top Gas Eliminator — John Jungers, Appleton, 9.08 sec., 166.00 m.p.h.

Super — Lowell Dahl, Stoughton, 8.42 sec., 180.72 m.p.h.

Packer Fans Protest Loss Of Their Television 'Voice'

By LEE REMMEL

GREEN BAY (AP) — The Packer faithful are not taking the loss of their television "voice" lying down.

Eloquent evidence to this effect can be found in Saturday's Press-Gazette in which can be found a substantial 4 by 6 inch advertisement protesting assignment of Ray Scott and his authoritative baritone to the Chicago Bears by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Addressed to William McPhail, CBS vice president, the ad reads: "We, the undersigned, wish to appeal your decision to rotate the announcers of NFL telecast. Ray Scott has long been identified as 'the voice of the world champion Green Bay Packers.' We urge you to allow him to continue to be the exclusive 'voice of the Packers.'"

The ad concludes, "Sincerely, Martha's Coffee Club, Green Bay."

Appended to it are signatures of the members and a request, "If you feel as we do on the above subject, please sign and get additional signatures. Mail directly to CBS."

The MCC's unhappiness stems from the recent announcement by CBS that Scott, the Pack's play by play announcer since 1957, has been assigned to describe eight Bear games this autumn and only three Packer contests under the network's new rotation policy.

Meet for Coffee

The Coffee club is made up of approximately 20 West Side business and professional men who meet for coffee and conversation at Martha's Lunch at 9 o'clock each weekday morning.

Howard Blindauer, informally acknowledged to be the Packers' No. 1 fan; and Maurie Robinson are ringleaders in the organization along with a long time confidant of players and coaches, Paul Mazzoleni.

"The subject is always football and the Packers, whether it's 50 degrees below zero or 100 in the shade," Mazzoleni said. "Everybody is supposed to bring a new item about the Packers each morning. And we all try to scoop each other every day."

Kimberly '9' Tops Manawa

Blajeski Paces Legion League Win With Four Hits

MANAWA — Kimberly gained its initial Fox Valley Legion victory of the season after two losses by trouncing Manawa, 17-8, in a Central Division contest here Saturday night.

Dan Blajeski led the winners' 13-hit offensive with four hits. Wyngaard contributed three safeties and Jeff Haas and Erbrecht had two apiece while Gordon Smith had Kimberly's only extra base hit — a double.

Haas started on the mound for Kimberly and went five innings before being relieved by Smith. The two walked 10, struck out eight and surrendered just five hits.

The winners had big innings in the third and seventh when they pushed across five runs in each.

Racing Driver Dies In Quebec Crash

MONT TREMBLANT, Que. (AP) — Racing driver Jean Lagrange, 33-year-old native of France, was killed Sunday when his car crashed during a race on the track in this Laurentian Mountains center north of Montreal.

Lagrange, who lived in Montreal, lost control on a curve and the racer flipped over several times. No other vehicles were involved.

mer in the nightcap but needed eighth inning relief help from Catfish Hunter.

The White Sox tripped up Detroit in the first game on Tommy Davis' seventh inning homer and led 1-0 in the nightcap behind Cisco Carlos' one-hit pitching until the Tigers exploded for five runs in the eighth.

Tom Matchick's single, a hit batsman and an error by Carlos filled the bases and chased the Chicago starter. Willie Horton's infield hit off reliever Hoyt Wilhelm walked another run across before Jim Northrup's two-run double and Norm Cash's RBI single capped the uprising.

McLain Now 11-2

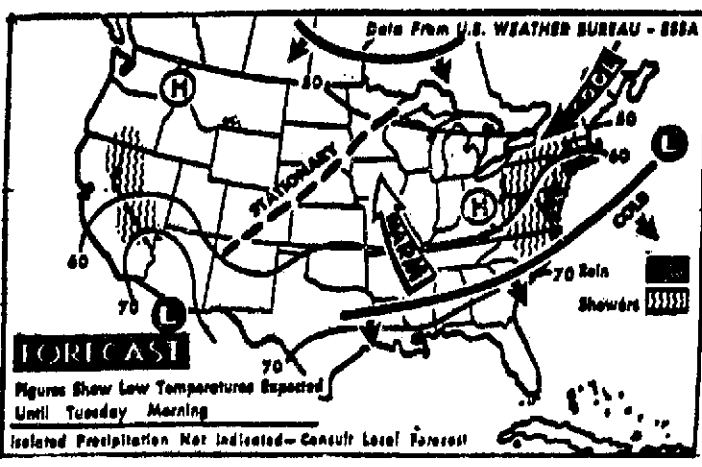

Denny McLain, lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth after allowing just three hits, recorded his 11th victory against two losses.

Ken Harrelson's three-run homer in the eighth inning powered the Red Sox past Cleveland. Boston's Rico Petrocelli smacked a two-run homer in the seventh.

Jim Lonborg, making his first start for the Red Sox, pitched three-hit ball for five innings before giving way to Bill Landis, who picked up the victory with late help from Lee Stange.

The Twins put together three straight victories for the first time this year in trimming Washington, which has lost five in a row, behind Dave Boswell's four-hit pitching and a 12-hit attack. Cesar Tovar clubbed a two-run homer for the Twins after teammates Tony Oliva and Ted Uhlaender poked run-scoring singles.

Black Creek Accidents Injure Three

BLACK CREEK — Three persons, two young motorcycle riders and a seven year-old girl, were injured in two accidents here Sunday afternoon.

Jenifer Strand, 15, and Edna McGowan, 16, both of Black Creek, were taken by ambulance to St. Vincent Hospital in Green Bay after their motorcycle struck a trailer pulled by a car driven by Deward R. Tucker, 52, of Belgium, Wis.

Outagamie County police said this morning they had not definitely determined which girl was operating the motorbike nor had they learned the nature of the girls' injuries. Police said Tucker was westbound on State 54, and had slowed almost to a stop for a stop-sign at State 47 when his trailer was struck by the motorcycle which had made a right turn and was eastbound on State 54. The accident occurred at about 12:22 p.m.

Girl Struck

In the second accident, two and one half hours later, Amy Klitzke, 7, route 2, Black Creek, suffered contusions to the head and abrasions to her chest and hips when she was struck by a car driven by Marvin Lund, 31, route 2, De Pere.

Lund told police he was westbound on State 54, near north Maple Street when the girl ran in front of his car from the south side of the street. She was taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital by private auto.

The Village of Black Creek celebrated a three-day homecoming Friday through Sunday.

Veterans Can Get Funds for Burial

Up to $250 for burial expenses for eligible deceased veterans will be paid by the Veterans Administration if the claim is filed within two years after the veteran's burial or cremation, according to Joseph J. Mulone, manager of the VA Regional Office, Milwaukee.

Burial claims may be filed by the undertaker, if he has not been paid, or by the party who paid the undertaker. Mulone said the VA would reimburse up to $250 in expenses for the permanent burial or cremation of any veteran who was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable, if the veteran served during wartime or after Aug. 4, 1964.

He said that similar burial expenses are also paid by VA for veterans of peacetime service who were receiving service-connected disability compensation at the time of their death, or who had been released from service for disabilities incurred in the line of duty.

Nonnuclear Nations Given Safety Promise

Soviets, Britain, U. S. Jointly Make Assurance in U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Britain, the Soviet Union and the United States planned to give formal assurance to the U.N. Security Council today for the safety of nonnuclear countries which accept the treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons.

The three nuclear powers were to declare that they would seek immediate Security Council action to help any such countries threatened or attacked by nuclear weapons.

The treaty, approved by the General Assembly Wednesday, would pledge countries with nuclear weapons not to transfer them to others and pledges the others not to acquire them.

The Big Three worked out their declaration and a council resolution supporting their warning to ease the fears of nations worried about protection if they give up the right to make atomic bombs.

A fourth nuclear power, France, boycotted the Geneva negotiations which produced the treaty and abstained from voting on the General Assembly resolution endorsing the treaty.

But France's U.N. delegate said about 2½ tons of cargo, were his government would act just shot down along the coast by allies if it were signing the treaty.

On the evening before Kennedy was shot, Life said, Sirhan "had just been thrown out of a victory party being held by backers of Max Rafferty who had won the GOP senatorial nomination."

French Students Lose Revolt Headquarters

Sorbonne Retaken By Police

PARIS (AP) — The Sorbonne, symbol of France's student revolt, fell to the gendarmes Sunday after a month's occupation, and today a student organization said it would halt street fighting, recognizing "that the students alone cannot continue the battle without support."

Angry students had battled the police again in the Latin Quarter Sunday night after the authorities had forced out the last 150 occupiers, hauled down the red and black flags of revolution and anarchy, and run up the French blue, white and red tricolor.

A break was also apparently at hand among striking auto-workers, die-hard holdouts of last month's national strike. About 65,000 workers at the state-run Renault plants were reported voting in favor of return to work on the basis of a 10 per cent salary increase by Oct. 1 and reduction of their work week.

Peaceful Intent

The National Students Union — UNEF — made its declaration of peaceful intentions, barring further "provocation," while police hygiene squads began cleaning up what they said was an "undescribable mess" in the Sorbonne. Classes are expected to resume in a week.

Plainclothes policemen continued a search of the university's corridors, lecture rooms and basement for revolutionary documents and possible arms.

The lecture halls were strewn with stale bits of bread, rotten apples, empty bottles and other trash. The library was a shambles.

A communique issued by UNEF accused the government of "seeking to provoke incidents through alleged 'ferocious repression.'" The statement said that authorities "are seeking demonstrations which could line up the population against the students."

'Glaring Trap'

"We will not fall in this glaring trap. UNEF will not respond to these provocations... The response must be above all a political battle," the statement said.

Appleton Youth Ike's Heart Attack Killed in Crash Now Called 'Major'

Kenneth Plamann Died Near Flintville; 8 More Fatalities

Kenneth P. Plamann, 18, died at 3 a.m. Sunday following a one-car crash near Flintville in Brown County.

Official said the car Plamann was driving apparently went out of control and struck a tree.

Plamann was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Plamann, 1236 E. Marquette St., Appleton. He was employed by Acme Printing Ink Co. of Wisconsin.

Services have been set for 11 a.m. Wednesday at St. Thomas More Catholic Church. Burial will be in Highland Memorial Park. Friends may call from 2 p.m. Tuesday until 10:30 a.m. Wednesday and then at the church until the time of service.

Plamann is survived by his parents, four brothers, two grandparents and two great-grandmothers.

At least eight other persons died in accidents on Wisconsin streets and highways during the weekend. The deaths raised the state traffic toll for the year to 492, compared with 409 on this date last year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — For-mer President Dwight D. Eisenhower suffered a major heart attack Saturday night but his "alert and in good spirits," his physicians reported today.

"The early period following any heart attack is the most critical. The general's response so far has been favorable," the physicians said in response to questions submitted by The Associated Press.

Officials at Walter Reed Army Hospital gave out answers to written questions following the issuance of a formal medical bulletin at 10 a.m. EDT.

Gen. Eisenhower has been comfortable during the past 24 hours and his vital signs (blood pressure, pulse and breathing rate) have remained stable," the bulletin said.

Remained Alert

"There has been no further recurrence of pain since the initial episode the night of June 15. No signs of heart failure have appeared. He has remained alert and in good spirits."

No further bulletins were planned until 10 a.m. Tuesday. "Mrs. Eisenhower has visited with him frequently. His son, John and the general's brothers have been kept fully informed of his condition," it added.

Doctors did not minimize the danger although stable usually means the patient's treatment however suffered a major heart and condition are satisfactory.

May George Foster, public affairs officer at the hospital, said in answer to a question doctors said they considered this "a major" attack.

The attack came Saturday night at Walter Reed, where the 77-year-old five-star general was recuperating from a mild heart seizure which struck him April 9 at Palm Desert, Calif., where he keeps a winter home.

Eisenhower was taken to Walter Reed by Air Force Plane May 14 after his doctors indicated he had recovered enough from his April 29 attack, described as a myocardial infarction, or blockage of an artery in the heart, to be moved.

He had been reported improving and received a visit last Tuesday from President Johnson. Eisenhower talked to his visitor while sitting on a sofa.

Since suffering his first heart attack in 1955, Eisenhower has been hospitalized eight times including the current stay at Walter Reed.

Three of these illnesses came in 1967 when he was treated two times for gastro-intestinal troubles and once for an enlarged prostate gland.

In 1966 he underwent surgery to correct a gall bladder condition, and in 1965 he suffered his second major heart attack.

Gun Call Unheeded

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP) — A plea by a Roman Catholic priest that his parishioners turn in their guns to him so they could be destroyed went unheeded Sunday.

The Rev. John Huhn, assistant pastor of St. Joseph Church, asked some 1,000 parishioners to "turn over their weapons of violence" at two masses Sunday. But no one complied.

Father Huhn said he was disappointed, but added: "Perhaps it was just a general reluctance or fear of wanting to be involved or to stand up publicly and do something."

"My desire in issuing the call was to make a point. If they respond even in the internal recesses of their hearts, it certainly will not be wasted."

Dayan Foe Named Deputy by Eshkol

JERUSALEM (AP) — Pre-early today, with each government Levi Eshkol seems certain to win cabinet approval of his first proposal to make Yigal Alon, rival of war hero Moshe Dayan, deputy premier.

Eshkol's proposal is seen as the first step toward denying the defense Minister Dayan the premiership when the 72-year-old premier steps down or is forced out in elections at the end of 1969.

Eshkol told the Cabinet Sunday he wants Alon, 49, as his second in command and minister for immigration absorption, a key post. The Cabinet did not discuss the proposal, but the dominant Mapai Party's leadership bureau approved the move Friday. Dayan and other members of the Rafi wing of the party boycotted the special meeting.

On another political front, Dr. Nahum Goldmann abandoned his bid for re-election as president of the World Zionist Organization and said he planned to establish a new international coordinating body for unaffiliated Jewish groups.

Goldmann announced his withdrawal during the 27th World Zionist Congress amid charges he had interfered with Israeli foreign policy by meeting with Sen. J. William Fulbright, the chairman of the U.S. Senate's Foreign Relations Committee. Goldmann remains president of the World Jewish Congress.

Israeli and Jordanian troops clashed across the Jordan River

However, Jordan removed from a previous blacklist the Sea and Ski Corp. and the Pre-lad Co.

The list included the Indian Coca-Cola Export Corp. of Bombay, and the French aircraft manufacturer Marcel Dassault, whose Israeli Mirage jets played a decisive role in last year's Arab-Israeli war.

'Solidarity Day' Organizers Work for Impossible

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lights burn most of the night in the small, two-story brick slum building that is the headquarters for Wednesday's "Solidarity Day" march in support of the Poor People's Campaign.

And the people who keep those long hours say they're accomplishing an almost impossible job.

Sterling Tucker, the man charged with getting people to come from across the country, accepted his job just eight days ago, and there are only two days left to do it in.

"We had 10 days to do what took three months in 1963," said deputy local coordinator Chip Wood. Nevertheless, he's confident that there will be what he calls "a good march."

With time so short Tucker, director of the Washington Urban League for the past 11 years, had to rely on already organized groups to send people from cities around the nation.

Varied Supporters
Labor unions, religious organizations, the still active Poor People's Campaign support groups that sent the original demonstrators to Resurrection City and the city of Washington are the backbone for Wednesday's march.

Tucker refuses to speculate on numbers beyond saying he expects at least 25,000 demonstrators. The National Student Association alone has pledged to supply that many.

Wood said in an interview Sunday he would guess that 75 to 100 organizations have pledged their support, including the United Auto Workers, Its president, Walter Reuther, will not only lead a UAW contingent, but will also be one of the main speakers. And because Tucker was the march's Washington organizer before he took over the position that Bayard Rustin resigned, he plans to turn out as many local residents as possible.

The list of supporters includes such varied groups as the National Council of Churches, the American Jewish Committee, the League of Women Voters, the District of Columbia Medical Society and Women for McCarthy.

Chief Speakers

Chief speakers include Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass., the first Negro elected to the upper house since Reconstruction; Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director, National Urban League, and Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., vice-chairman of "Solidarity Day."

Mrs. King issued a statement in Atlanta late Sunday urging all who believe "that America cannot afford poverty, cannot tolerate racism, and cannot survive war," to join her Wednesday.

"Solidarity Day" is being organized separately from the Poor People's Campaign, whose leaders held another march on the Agriculture Department Sunday to support the round-the-clock vigil that has camped there since Wednesday.

Only about 30 persons participated, but they carried the first

Regents Okay Housing Plan For UW-GB

MADISON — The University of Wisconsin Board of Regents Friday approved unanimously a recommendation for the construction of residence halls at the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay through 50 per cent private and 50 per cent public funds.

The recommendation provides for the privately-financed construction of residence halls for 500 single students by the fall of 1970 and for a total of 1,344 single students by the fall of 1971.

State funding would be sought for construction of residence halls for an additional 1,344 single students and 62 families by the fall of 1972.

Total Cost Unknown

Total cost for the dormitories, whether built with private or public funds, will be between $5.3 and $8.7 million on the basis of $4,000 to $6,500 per student cost range.

The recommendation for student housing is based on enrollment projections for UWGB prepared by the coordinating Council for Higher Education last March. The estimates indicated 2,580 students will be attending classes on the new campus and at the Decker Avenue site by 1970, and that the 1971 single student population would be 3,429.

Preliminary plans call for apartment-style residence halls and possibly others — enough to give him 40 to 70 electoral votes.

Fears Wallace Candidacy Ford Predicts GOP Control In Next Session of House

OSHKOSH — Rep. Gerald Ford, Michigan, House Republican minority leader, made what he said was his first prediction here of next fall's election here on Friday, saying he expects control of the House of Representatives to go to the GOP.

He said there is a "50-50 possibility" that the next president will be chosen in the House rather than by the electoral system due to the candidacy of Ex-Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama on a third-party ticket.

Ford also forecast "substantial GOP gains in the Senate" this fall. If Republican gains in Senate seats now held by Democrats amount to "10 or 12" which is perfectly possible, Ford said the GOP also could win control of the Senate in 1970.

Ford joined commentators who have said the Wallace candidacy could prevent either of the two major party candidates from gaining the 270 electoral college votes needed in November to win the presidency.

Under the Constitution, that would throw the election into the House of Representatives for settlement next January.

"I hope the American people will not throw their votes away," Ford said. Asked whether this could be interpreted as a campaign against George Wallace, he replied, "I'm campaigning for the Republican candidate for the presidency."

He forecast Wallace victories in the five "Deep South" states and possibly others — enough to give him 40 to 70 electoral votes.

COG Planning Urged in Regional Transportation

Alan Boyd Tells Mayors Traffic Patterns Must be Part of Total Concept of Area Development

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

CHICAGO — Regional planning of comprehensive transportation systems by councils of government will be a big step in coping with the country's giant transportation problem.

Secretary of Transportation Alan S. Boyd, flown here from Washington, gave the message at the four-day U. S. Conference of Mayors.

Boyd, along with John Gardner, now with the Urban Coalition and formerly the secretary of Health, Education and Welfare in the Johnson Administration, discussed with the mayors ways of dealing with urban problems.

Affects Fox Cities

The heavy emphasis Boyd put on the work of councils of government had added meaning for Appleton and other communities in the Fox Cities.

Just recently the Fox Valley Council of Governments received a federal grant with which to update the comprehensive regional plan, including future transportation needs.

It is expected that sometime in the 1970's the Fox Cities will have a new Tri-County Expressway passing through Winnebago, Outagamie and Calumet counties.

This was the type of planning a transportation resources Boyd was alluding to in helping to alleviate somewhat the huge traffic jam on the highways and city streets. He made these suggestions:

Decide for Itself

—Each urban area must decide for itself what kind of transportation system best serves and suits its particular area.

—Look at various transportation modes on an inclusive rather than exclusive basis.

—Evaluate alternative transportation systems, not in narrowly economic or engineering terms, but in terms of the total urban environment.

—Each city and metropolitan area must decide for itself what kind of transportation system best suits its needs . . . and before it can decide that, it must decide what kind of a city it wants to be," Boyd said.

"We have been telling anyone who would listen that it makes no sense to lay out locations for factories, offices and apartment buildings and then go back and fill in the blank spaces with streets and expressways," Boyd said.

Urban Problems

Gardner, whose Urban Coalition is designed to foster effective collaboration between all segments of the private sector and all levels of government in tackling difficult problems facing cities, said, "At last Americans now recognize the problems exist."

He said this awareness was being translated into determination to act. But Gardner said it is still the rare citizen who regards the urban crisis as his problem.

"And even those who are ready to act have a very unsure sense of what the priorities are," Gardner said.

Water Standards List Includes Exceptions In Fox Valley Area

Resource Board Issues Orders Upgrading State's Inland Streams

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Intrastate water quality standards and use classifications that are intended to upgrade all the inland waters of Wisconsin within 10 years to fit them for public water supplies, whole body water contact recreation, and the production of game fish and minnows were enacted Friday by the Board of Resource Development and ratified by the new Board of Natural Resources.

The standards applicable to the various water protection regions of the state contained many exceptions, however, including a substantial list in Region 3, embracing most of the Fox River Valley and adjacent territory.

The criteria follow the precedents established earlier for interstate waters.

The order warned that the water quality standards and use classifications that are now inconsistent with the long-range pure water goals of the state are "interim standards, and use classifications will be progressively upgraded until the goals are attained."

Industry Needs

While the exceptions appear to be numerous, the order would actually return or maintain most of the surface waters of the state to a condition supporting fish life.

Exceptions are mostly in recognition of the needs of industry for water, including manufacturing industry in the major urban centers, and agricultural processors, in other instances.

The intrastate water quality requirements for the area within Region 3, consisting of Forest, Florence, Marinette, Oconto, Langlade, Menominee, Shawano, Waupaca, Outagamie, Brown, Door, Kewaunee, Manitowoc, Calumet, Winnebago, Waushara, Marquette, Green Lake, Fond du Lac and Sheboygan counties would meet the standards for full recreational use and those for fish and other aquatic life, with these exceptions and additions:

Exceptions Listed

Intermittent tributary of the Manitowoc River below Valders in Manitowoc County.

Intermittent tributary of the West Twin River east of Francis Creek village in Manitowoc County.

Pine Creek tributary below New Holstein in Manitowoc County.

Spring Creek below Brillion in Manitowoc County.

Luxemburg Creek in Kewaunee County.

Tributary of the Shoc River below Bondel for two miles in Shawano County.

Black Creek in Outagamie County.

Jones Creek below Lena for five miles in Oconto County.

Tributary of the Manitowoc River below St. Nazianz in Manitowoc County.

Tributary of the north branch of the Manitowoc River below Hilbert in Calumet County.

Partial Contact

Minimum standards and those for partial body contact recreation and industrial and cooling water use:

Oconto River below the bridge in Oconto Falls.

Minimum standards and those for industrial and cooling, in addition to the standards for recreational use, and fish and other aquatic life:

Sheboygan River from Kohler to the mouth Manitowoc River in the city of Manitowoc.

East Twin River in the city of Two Rivers.

West Twin River in the city of Two Rivers.

Wolf River in the city of New London.

West Branch of the Wolf River near Neopit.

Fox River in the city of Oshkosh, and the Wolf River near the city of Shawano.

Minimum standards and those for industrial and water cooling use and the public water supply in addition to the standards for recreational use and fish and other aquatic life:

Lake Winnebago.

Fox River from Lake Winnebago downstream to the upper dam in Appleton.

UW-Green Bay Chancellor Gets Pay Boost to $29,000

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Chancellor Edward W. Weidner of the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay, has been awarded a $1,500 pay increase. His new salary will be $29,000.

The raise was one of many acted upon Friday by the University of Wisconsin Board of Regents and matched that given to Chancellor Irvin G. Wylie of the UW-GB's sister campus in Kenosha County.

Topping the list was a $2,000 raise for UW President Fred H. Harrington to a total of $47,000. Harrington is the highest paid state official in Wisconsin.

Robert L. Clodius, UW vice president, also received a $2,000 boost to $37,250.

William H. Sewell, Madison campus chancellor, $36,000, a raise of $1,000; J. Marlin Klotsche, Milwaukee campus chancellor, $32,500, up $1,500; Lorenz Adolphson, center system chancellor, $29,500, a raise of $1,000.

U. S. Dollar Better Than Gold - Race

PORT WASHINGTON — John Race, a candidate for the congressional seat he lost two years ago, told Sixth District labor union members here that the U.S. dollar is better than gold.

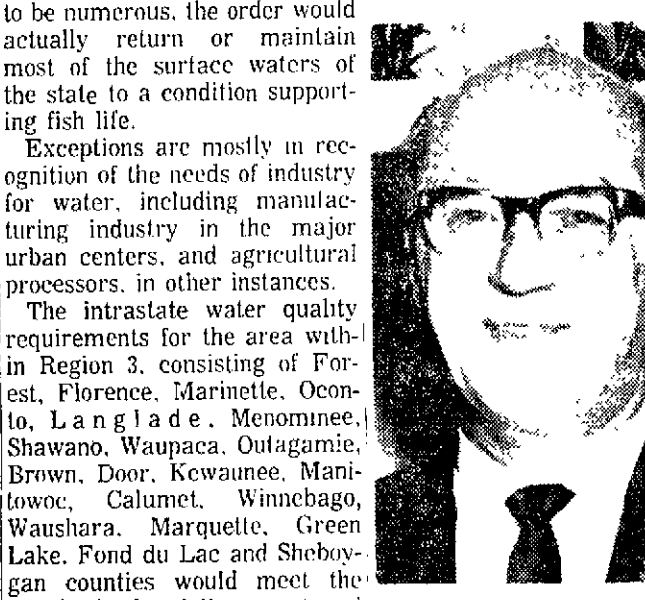

Addressing members of the AFL-CIO, Race said, "There is no reason whatsoever for a financial panic in 1968. The turmoil in the gold markets abroad need not have an effect on what a housewife can buy with a dollar bill in the supermarket."

"The strength and vitality of the American economy, with its incredible annual output of more than $800 billion, have not been and probably will not be seriously touched by problems in international finance."

The real issue has been the problem of international banking and trade arrangements among the nations of the free world, he said.

"The American dollar is the major currency in the world, with other currencies valued in world markets by how many francs, pounds, marks, lires or pesos it costs to buy a dollar. This is because the American economy is the richest and most productive in the world."

"The foundation of the American dollar's strength is America's economic assets," he said.

Pharmacist Claims Coercion Attempt UW Regents to Study Dean Selection

BY TIM WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — Stunned by charges of coercion, the University of Wisconsin Board of Regents Friday scheduled a special session for next week to investigate the selection of the new dean of the pharmacy school.

By a 7-1 vote and after the longest meeting in recent memory — more than two hours behind locked doors in secret session — the board told the administration to arrange the meeting between it and administrative officials, the new dean and the pharmacy school faculty.

The charges were leveled at the meeting by the Wisconsin Pharmaceutical Association, which protested the selection last February of Dr. David Perlman to head the school.

Allen Daniels, executive director of the statewide organization, charged Perlman lacked the professional qualifications to head the department and that "a threat of personal hurt was messaged to me by a faculty member at the instruction of the dean — designate to attempt to develop a facade of support for the dean-designate."

Says Faculty Opposed

Daniels, accompanied by officers of the organization and faculty leaders from the pharmacy school, told the board that a large share of the faculty is opposed to the selection of Perlman.

Because of this the faculty was excluded from the process which selected Perlman, Daniels charged.

He told the board that about two years ago the present dean of the school, Arthur Uhl, decided to retire and that a search committee was established by the administration to select his successor.

The man chosen was an eminent biochemist but was rejected by the pharmacy faculty because he had no training or experience in pharmacy.

A new committee was created and kept its work completely secret from the faculty, Daniels charged. The committee selected Perlman, one of five members of the committee.

Reported in February

The selection was reported to the regents in February by Madison Campus Chancellor William Sewell, who had taken over the top administrative post while the pharmacy search process was being carried out.

Daniels reminded the regents that Sewell had been asked by the board prior to regent approval if the pharmacy faculty approved of Perlman's selection. Sewell replied affirmatively but may have misunderstood the question, Daniels told the board.

But earlier in an open letter to state pharmacists, he had charged that the regents' approval came because of "deceptive answers" from the chancellor.

Speaking for the association, Daniels told the board, "We protest the selection as being a dean-designate a biochemist with no degree in pharmacy at the bachelor of science, master of science, or the Ph.D. level."

Perlman had worked for a major drug firm but now is a faculty member.

In an open letter to state pharmacists earlier this month, Sewell said that the selection of Perlman was made because of an increased emphasis on research being developed in the school and because of administrative difficulties ahead for the school in a time of major expansions.

"I think you owe it to yourselves to become better acquainted with Prof. Perlman," wrote Sewell. "You will find him dedicated to the future of pharmacy . . . his appointment sets no new precedent as to the qualities we look for in a dean."

Gasoline Seeps; Explosion Threat

5,800 Gallons Leak From Tank Located in Industrial Flats Area

Appleton firemen continued to watch with concern Saturday morning the "dangerous situation" they said was created when some 5,800 gallons of raw gasoline seeped into the ground in the industrial flats Friday.

The fuel leaked from a tank at Marston Brothers, Inc., 405 E. Railroad Ave. The leak was discovered late Friday morning upon investigation of a strong gasoline odor in the area.

Firemen pumped several thousand gallons of water onto the fuel-soaked ground and into the leaking tank. They were at the scene about four hours Friday.

"At times we had a very high explosive reading on our (explosion) meters," said Deputy Fire Chief Harold Kramer.

Underground Pocket

He said there was some concern over the possibility the leaking fuel may have formed an underground pocket that could comprise an explosive condition under certain circumstances. Officials said part of the danger lies in the fact that the gasoline tanks are in a heavily industrialized area of the city.

Some of the fuel was seeping into the scale pit area of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railway Co. Trains were skirted around the area Friday afternoon and evening, but railroad officials said the restriction would be lifted today.

A written report at the fire department indicated that the gasoline was leaking underground to a sump pump which was pumping the fuel directly under a nearby warehouse.

Firemen said they attached hoses to the sump pump and pumped the fuel away from the buildings.

Colored Dye

Kramer said this morning that colored dye was put into the leaking tank in an attempt to determine the exact areas into which the fuel seeped Friday. He said officials wanted particularly to see if the gasoline "shows up near any of the industrial plants" in the flats.

Kramer emphasized that the leaking tank is now empty.

Marston Company officials and engineers from Mobil Oil Co. were working at the scene this morning.

Lewis V. Versnick, director of enforcement for the Division of Motor Vehicles, said that because of the large size of the incoming group of trainees — 108 men in all — two separate classes are being held, with identical training being offered under direction of Lt. Jerome Lacke, a recent graduate of the nine-month police administration course at Northwestern University Traffic Institute, Evanston, Ill.

While most of the instruction will be given by State Patrol sergeants, guest instructors from Madison and other places also will be utilized. Curriculum topics include traffic laws, court procedures, enforcement techniques, accident investigation and reporting, self-defense and pistol practice.

Upon completion of 13 weeks in classrooms, three more weeks will be spent in the field on regular patrol with senior troopers, after which the men will take regular assignments.
